ON THE FIRING LINE

Pulsebeats of the Warriors Shown by Tongue and Pen From Ocean to Ocean in Canada's Greatest Conflict.

There can be no doubt that on every feature involving the future of Canada and the prosperity of the nation Mr. Borden's policy, or what he calls a policy, has failed of appeal to the people. Mr. Borden's press constantly reiterates that Canadians cannot become prosperous and remain loyal to the flag. Every economic argument against reciprocity has been shown by fact and figures to be false. The people of Canada will show Mr. Borden that when he says they cannot prosper and remain loyal, he strikes another false note.

TRADE EAST AND WEST.

(St. John Telegraph.)
The advantage Canada enjoys in controlling the carrying trade of the West is geographic. Nothing but the most blind restrictions could take it away. The Canadian railways have the advantage of distance. That is the chief reason for the quick development of Canadian transcontinental lines. The United States had a population of about forty millions before it had a single transcontinental railway. But Canada has such faith in the future that she will soon have three great transcontinental lines from ocean to ocean. The "little Canadians" will shout annexation and the absorption of the country by her big neighbor, but the government goes on quietly preparing for the future with confidence, patriotism and vision. Sir Wilfrid Laurier believes that "trade is even the most potent agency of peace, amity, and mutual respect between nations," so he opens new avenues of trade whenever the opportunity offers. There is absolutely nothing in the present fiscal policy of either country to prevent western wheat being shipped to Europe through American ports. There is no duty to stand in the way. It comes through Canada because it follows the natural and shortest course, and it will do so in the future to a much greater extent.

ON WITH THE DANCE.

(From speech by Hon. H. O. Taitton, Ex-Premier of Quebec.)

"I accuse our ministers of having made arrangements with Great Britain suicidal to our political autonomy. I accuse them of burdening our exchequer with expenses that the country will be unable to shoulder. I accuse them of plotting us into the abyss of imperialism."

FOOD FOR REFLECTION

(Montreal Witness.)

The agreement would take $4,549,000 duty off your present exports to the United States, Mr. Farmer, and those of the fisherman, a large proportion of which money would have gone into your pockets had the agreement been in force. Not only that, but the exports would have been many times as great as they have been. Canada being the smaller market of the two, the prices of most of the articles involved—such as are not determined overseas—are determined by the market of the United States, so that in large measure the Canadian producer gets most of the advantage of the removal of United States duties and the Canadian consumer gets most of the advantage of the removal of Canadian duties.

NOT A PARTY QUESTION.

(Huntingdon Gleaner, Con.)

If the government faces the electors for the best act it has done, the negotiation of a treaty to open the United States market to our farmers. The 21st of September will give the answer of the farmers.

What is the district of Beauharnois going to do in this coming election? That its farmers are as near a unit as can be in favor of dropping the bars that keep out American buyers from coming in to buy what they have to sell is certain, and no candidate opposed to reciprocity ought to get a ballot from them. Instead of leaving it to party wire-pullers to call conventions to nominate candidates agreed upon beforehand, we should like to open meetings in each county, at which the farmers would decide upon who is to be their standard-bearer. Reciprocity is a purely business matter, and ought not to be made a party question.

HYPOCRITICAL WORD MONGERING.

(Pernie Ledger.)

The manufacturers of those articles of commerce which have been prevented from importation and thereby entering into competition with their wares, see in the lowering of the tariff a menace to their solar plexus—viz., profits, and will consistently oppose the reciprocity pact, and through their various mouthpieces, the press and the Conservative politician, will clamor in strident tones about severing the ties with the Empire, disruption and sundry hypocritical word mongering, while the real source of their anxiety lies in the fact that it is their own exchequer that will be

JOHN OLIVER IS PARTY CHOICE

NOMINATED BY LIBERALS
AT NEW WESTMINSTER

Candidates Being Selected for Constituencies Throughout Dominion

New Westminster, Aug. 12.—John Oliver of Delta was yesterday nominated as Liberal candidate to contest this constituency in the federal election in September. There were 77 accredited delegates in attendance at the convention. The names placed before the convention were those of Messrs John Oliver and George J. Kennedy, but Mr. Kennedy withdrew in favor of Mr. Oliver, and the nomination of the latter was made unanimous.
W. T. Cookley-nominated Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He instanced the case of Sir John Macdonald representing Victoria, and contended that there was no man who would unite the party like the premier of Canada. It was felt, however, that the premier had so many claims upon him that his acceptance would be doubtful and would in any event cause delay. The nomination was accordingly withdrawn, as was also that of Charles Munro of Chilliwack, his nominator being unable to give a guarantee of his acceptance.
Addresses were delivered by the newly-elected candidate and by J. W. Weart, who retired recently from the contest, and by Mr. Kennedy, who withdrew in favor of Mr. Oliver. In the evening a Liberal rally was held in the hall, at which the chief speakers were Messrs. Oliver, Weart and A. Cruickshank of Matsqui.

South Mainland, N. S. Aug. 12.—Hadley B. Tremaine was unanimously chosen to contest the Hants county in the Conservative interest.

Montreal, Aug. 12.—I. T. Marchal retired as the Conservative candidate in Hochelaga, and last night Louis Gaudreault was nominated.

Belleville, Ont., Aug. 12.—East Hastings Conservatives at Madoc to-day nominated W. B. Northrup, K.C., unanimously.

Mitchell, Ont., Aug. 12.—C. H. McIntyre, deputy speaker of the Commons, was nominated to-day by South Perth Liberals. His opponent is Dr. Steele of Tavistock.

Orillia, Ont., Aug. 12.—East Simcoe Conservatives nominated W. H. Bennett to oppose Manley Chew, who defeated Mr. Bennett in 1908.

Perth, Ont., Aug. 12.—North Lanark Liberals nominated W. B. Caldwell.

Simcoe, Ont., Aug. 12.—Alexander Miram was nominated by Norfolk Conservatives to oppose Hon. W. A. Charlton.

Arthur, Ont., Aug. 12.—Alexander M. Martin was chosen by North Wellington Liberals.

AT THE CONSERVATIVE PICNIC

According to an acknowledged authority, the principal event on the programme was to be a Hobble Skirt Race. This feature was on the point of being pulled off when the Times went to press.

SIX HOUSES DESTROYED.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 12.—A fire at New Toronto this morning destroyed six houses, causing a loss of $8,000 to the buildings and $3,500 to contents. Five of the houses were frame structures rented by workmen, while the other was a pressed brick structure owned by Percy Rillies and valued at about $4,000.

ELECTROCUTED.

Calgary, Aug. 12.—Playing with a rod charged with two hundred volts, which is used to prod cattle on to the killing tables in the Burns abattoir this morning, A. Schue, an employee, dropped the rod and picking it up took the exposed end by mistake, being killed instantly.

CONCILIATION BOARD.

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—The Minister of Labor has established a board of conciliation and investigation to adjust the dispute between the Montreal Street Railway and its employees.

TWO RAILWAY DETECTIVES SHOT

MEET DEATH AS RESULT OF JOKE

Plan Surprise for Special Officer, Who Kills Them in the Dark

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 12.—Particulars of the shooting of Daniel Vreeland and Frank J. Cook, special detectives of the Lake Shore Railroad, who were killed last night by Special Officer William Burnett of the Michigan Central Railroad on Michigan Central tracks near Junction avenue, show that the men met death as the result of a joke they attempted to play on Burnett. They were all on the best terms and met at the Junction of the two roads last night.

Cook and Vreeland, knowing that Burnett had had trouble with two car robbers, decided that they would hide behind a car and spring out on him as he passed. Burnett, not recognizing either of the men in the darkness, drew his gun and shot four times at them, three of the bullets taking effect. One went through Cook's heart, the other two striking Vreeland in the head and chest. Burnett then ran down the tracks to Junction avenue, where he met Patrolman Daniel O'Connor who was hastening toward the scene of the shooting.

"I just shot a couple of car thieves," he said.
The two men went back and looked at the bodies. When Burnett saw who the men were he had shot he broke down. O'Connor took him to the Fourth Precinct station, where he was locked up.

In telling his story Burnett said: "I was walking down the tracks and had just examined a car, when the two men sprang out on me. I fought them off and stepped back. They came at me again saying: 'Don't worry, we'll get you.' I pulled my gun and shot—how many times I don't know. I then ran down the tracks until I met the patrolman. When we went back and I saw that the men I had killed were Cook and Vreeland, I could hardly think, it was such a shock. I had never had any trouble with either of them. We were all good friends."

AVIATOR INJURED.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—John J. Joyce, an aviator, fell 500 feet yesterday while making a flight in a biplane at Hawthorne race track, and received only slight injuries. When he reached a height of about 500 feet his engine suddenly went "dead" and the machine started downward. A trolley wire checked the descent and the aviator jumped, escaping with a broken leg, a sprained ankle and cuts about the face. The machine was completely wrecked.

KING'S PRIZE WINNER.

Montreal, Aug. 12.—Private W. J. Clifford of Toronto, hero of the Canadian Blisley team and winner of the King's prize and Prince of Wales' prize, arrived here to-day aboard the Victoria, bringing with him $100 in prize money and a room full of cups and medals. He will proceed to Toronto on Monday night, where a civic reception will be tendered to him.

MAY CLAIM SALVAGE.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 12.—A sequel to the grounding of H. M. S. Cornwall when the vessel was rushing to the assistance of the Niobe, is likely in a big claim for salvage by Chas. Brister & Son, owners of the vessel Bridgewater, which, with the help of the Lady Laurier, assisted the Cornwall off the dangerous rocks.

CUTTING WHEAT.

Brandon, Man., Aug. 11.—Farmers attending the Liberal convention from all over Brandon electorate division, say that cutting is general in nearly all localities, and from those visiting here not a single complaint was heard about damage to crops. Some reports of rust were heard, but little or no damage is expected.

TROOPS ON DUTY AT LIVERPOOL

GUARD FOODSTUFFS
REMOVED FROM DOCKS

Striking Corporation Employees Wreck Street Cars at Glasgow

Liverpool, Aug. 12.—Armed with sabres and carbines and furnished with ball cartridges, a strong detachment of the Royal Scot Greys effected the removal to-day of goods which have been tied up at the central depots by the striking dockmen and carters.

Six hundred tons of foodstuffs were moved in one procession, which was accompanied by magistrates, who were mounted. As they rode along they carried in their hands copies of the Riot Act.

The strikers looked on sullenly, but showed no disposition for a conflict with the soldiers.

Strike At Glasgow.

Glasgow, Aug. 12.—The corporation street car men went on strike to-day. Attempts to send out cars were prevented by the strikers, who attacked and wrecked them.

London Strike Over.

London, Aug. 12.—London is almost itself again to-day. A few hours after the official announcement that the strike had been settled last night supplies were rushed out to replenish the empty markets and stores. It is estimated that the week's strike of the dockmen and carters has cost the metropolis at least $7,500,000.

The car men employed by two railroad companies claim to have private grievances and refuse to return to work until the general settlement. They threaten again to paralyze city traffic.

The strike of dockmen, lighter men, coal porters and car men was ended with the settlement of the lighters' dispute. The men were conceded a ten-hour day and an increase of about twenty-five per cent. in wages.

It is now expected that all the men will return to work on Monday.

The strike leaders last night issued a manifesto declaring their determination to enforce the demand that every man concerned in the strike shall be reinstated in his former position.

TO ENTERTAIN ARTILLERYMEN.

London, Aug. 12.—A heavy social programme has been arranged for the Canadian artillery. On August 10 Lord Strathbrooke dined the officers at the "White City," shepherd's bush. Other visits include Teddington, Bushy Park, Hampton Court, Richmond, Windsor, Portsmouth and Isle of Wight.

ARBITRATION PROPOSAL.

London, Aug. 11.—Sir Charles Wright Macrae, chairman of the committee of the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers' Association, said to-day that he did not think that the Canadian arbitration scheme which was proposed by Will Crooks when visiting Canada was suitable here. "Anything with the slightest semblance of compulsion should be rejected by both working people and employers," he said.

BEAUTIFICATION SCHEME REPORT

CIVIC CENTRE PLAN
IS UNRECOGNIZABLE

Only Aldermanic Members Sign the Report; Special Meeting Will Discuss Question

When Mayor Morley launched his beautification commission it was connected that before he achieved anything tangible he would have to wade through the customary travail of scepticism as well as the inevitable waters of opposition; but never in anyone's dreams of obstruction was it considered that the civic head of Victoria would encounter so many rebuffs, both real and personal, in the propagation of his ideas for a civic centre, as he has been compelled to face. Therefore it was the more surprising to find him—and the remnants of his commission—reporting to the council last night as though the entire conference had been one long round of pleasure instead of a gruelling bout with apathy, obstruction, discourtesy, and rivalry.

All that was left of them, left of the once influential and brainy commission appointed to investigate the circumstances of the city in relation to its requirements of a new civic centre, reported to the council last night. Their signatures at the foot of the report told their own tale—Mayor Morley, Ald. Gleason, Ross and H. M. Fullerton—and left any misunderstanding might even then arise from the terms of the report H. M. Fullerton explained that his signature did not bind him to the favor of any plan. Not one single outside member of the commission signed his name to the report, which follows:

Gentlemen:—The undersigned members of your special committee appointed to consider the question of a civic centre and site for new city buildings, beg to report and recommend as follows:

As the result of the first two meetings of your committee, a resolution was passed recommending to the favorable consideration of the council the obtaining of the balance of property not owned by the city in the market building block, upon which to erect the new civic buildings, and to obtain the balance of the block on which the city hall now stands, and the small triangular block west of it for an open square; also to widen Cornmarket street to the proposed site of the new bridge approach, retaining two triangles created by additional street facilities, in the neighborhood of Cornmarket, Store, Johnson, and Water, said triangular plots to be retained for ornamental purposes. The whole of the above improvement, including $750,000 for new buildings, to cost approximately $2,500,000.

The above resolution was passed on Monday, July 24th, and the mayor instructed to have a report prepared for the signing of the committee for submission to the council on the following Friday evening.

On account of new possibilities appearing, resulting from the discussions of the committee, the mayor addressed a communication to each member of the committee, requesting them to hold a further meeting on Friday afternoon, July 28th, for a recommendation before signing the original report. This meeting was attended only by Mr. Justice Martin, Aldermen Gleason and Ross, Mr. Northcott, and the mayor, when, as a result of an informal discussion, Mr. Martin suggested that it was desirable that a further meeting of the whole committee should be held before making a final report by the council, in which those present concurred.

Following this suggestion, the mayor issued notices for a meeting of the committee for Friday afternoon, August 4th, to which Alderman Gleason only responded.

On that evening the mayor took up the matter with the council members of the committee, except Alderman Langley, who was not present, when it was decided that the matter should not be further delayed, and a meeting of the committee was favored for Wednesday, the 9th, at 4 p. m., the call of which Ald. Ross only responded. Money being already voted for new police headquarters in the market building, the growing difficulty of obtaining a sufficient available space for a city centre, and the rapid increase in values made it imperative that this matter be dealt with at once.

The further suggestions that the mayor wished to be considered before adopting the original suggestion of the committee is a modification of the Cornmarket street improvement plan, whereby the city would obtain a block facing Pandora on the north side between Vancouver and Cook, being almost twice the area of the market block, upon which to locate the new civic buildings, and to square out the north side of Pandora street for three blocks from Chambers to Quadra, for a civic centre square, creating an opening of approximately 2,000 feet long, by 180 feet wide, which would necessitate but a small amount of expropriation creating a shapeless improvement of what is at present an improvement of shape, an invaluable opening.

If the council should decide to leave the proposed widening and other improvements to be discussed at a later date.

822 Catherine St., Victoria West.TAYLOR MILL PEOPLE WANT LEASE EXECUTEDThornton Fell, for the Company Has a Long Drive at His Worship

The four-year-old question mentioned in the Times the other day in regard to the property lying between the Taylor Mill Company's premises and the Lemon-Gonnason Company's premises on Government street, at the foot of Queen's avenue, came up at the meeting of the city council last night
on the receipt of a letter from Thornton Fell, solicitor for the Taylor Mill Company, setting forth the legality of a lease held by the company, and asking the city to ratify it, as the company was now desirous of using the property in connection with its rebuilding scheme.

The reading of the letter brought Ald.
Humber and the mayor into grips for a moment, but as the council generally was not conversant enough with the particulars of the case to act upon it,
and as the mayor did not remember all the details, it was decided to have the city solicitor bring in a report on the matter.

The letter of Mr. Fell was in the following terms:

"As you are aware, on the 20th ult.
the sawmill and premises of the Taylor Mill Company were destroyed by fire, and the question of rebuilding and reconstruction has necessarily arisen.

"In considering the question of rebuilding, the question of the Taylor Mill Company's agreement with the city for the granting of a lease of a part of the strip of land lying between this company's premises and the premises of Messrs. Lemon, Gonnason & Co.
has also come under consideration, and it will be necessary for this company to know whether they are to obtain the lease of this piece of land or not, before they can proceed with their plans for their proposed new and enlarged premises. The company wish to make their plans fit their lands, and premises and plans are costly.

"It is well-known to your worship and some of the aldermen, that the council of 1905 agreed to grant to my clients a lease of the strip of land referred to. This agreement was signed by the then mayor and the then city clerk, and a form of lease was prepared by the city solicitor, and approved by all parties.

"For some reason best known to your worship, your worship has persistently refused to carry out the agreement entered into before mentioned, and the lease has never been granted to my clients.

"The matter has been submitted by the council to W. J. Taylor, the city barrier, and the latter has advised that the city is legally bound to execute a lease to my clients; but notwithstanding this advice your worship has succeeded in inducing the several councils over which your worship has presided to refuse to execute the lease
in question.

"My clients now desire that I should give the city one more opportunity to do that which is morally right, and that which is legally bound to do, namely, carry out the fair and square bargain made by my clients with the city for valuable consideration passing from it to the city, the full benefit of which the city has received, and execute the lease in question.

"I beg to point further that my clients have been seriously handicapped and damaged in their operations and in the conduct of their business
during the past five years by the refusal of the city to execute this lease (first applied for in 1905) and a continuance of this refusal may lead to my clients deciding not to rebuild their mill and thus cause the loss to the city of this valuable industry, the expenditure of a large amount of capital and the loss of steady employment to a large number of men.

"My remarks apply with equal force
to the agreement made at the same time with my clients the Lemon, Gonnason & Co. for a lease of a portion of the Rock Bay lands."

Mayor Morley stated that so far as he knew the city had never felt inclined to grant the proposition. He had not the best remembrance of the details, but it was a matter in connection with street ends. It really was a question whether the city could give away or lease such property even if it wished to.

Ald. Humber took exception to the mayor's remarks. Said he: "You were the only one who would not sign the lease. Now this matter has gone on for five years, and there are two industries down there handicapped for want of room. Why, you yourself were going to build a sewer there—the dirty mud hole. (Laughter.) What harm can it do? The lease was applied for four years ago when Mayor Morley was mayor, and he was the only one who refused to sign the report."

Ald. H. M. Fullerton: "Are these the facts of the case, your worship, because if they are I would feel inclined to have the matter settled right now."

Mayor Morley: "Indeed no; they are very far from the facts."
Ald. Humber: "Pardon me, these are the facts."

The mayor came back and explained that many of the details had slipped his memory and suggested that it would be much more satisfactory for the city solicitor to bring in a report on the subject, not only for his own benefit, but for the benefit of the aldermen who were not conversant with the facts of the case.

Ald. W. F. Fullerton suggested that it was the refusal of the provincial government to surrender its rights on the property that had really held the proposition up. On a division the mayor's suggestion was adopted.

BEAUTIFICATION
SCHEME REPORT

provements between Government street and the waterfront out of the civic centre scheme, of which it is really not a part, but can be dealt with more satisfactorily when the location of the new bridge is determined, and further, if the city's holdings in the market block and present city hall are disposed of, the above improvement would call for the ratepayers raising only the cost of the buildings, $750,000,
and an improvement could be obtained,
both as to location and magnitude,
much more in keeping with the greater Victoria we anticipate and are building for.

This brings the expenditure down to a practical solution, not difficult to meet at this time. The building space proposed would afford ample room for a public auditorium, adequate civic business departments, the headquarters of the fire and police departments, and an enlarged library building, if so desired.

It is to be noted that, under this last suggested scheme, the cost provides that in the sale of the market building property, a sufficient space of the present fire department be reserved facing Broad street for a fire hall at this point.

As regards the library suggestion;
our present library is already outgrown, and it will be but a short time before an addition will have to be made, in which event it is worth considering that the present library building and site could be disposed of for a large sum of money, for say a banking institution, the whole proceeds would then be available for building only, no additional money having to be used for the purchase of a site, and the library building would add architectural values to the civic structures in a much more appropriate location for a public building.

As regards the difference of location between the market building site and the site on Pandora avenue, they are distant only three blocks apart, and the Pandora site is much more suited to a public structure, as being on higher and more stately ground, and is actually the exact hub of Victoria of the present and the future.

To put the original scheme and this latter scheme on an equal financial basis by eliminating the proposed improvements west of Government street,
from both schemes, on the original suggestion of the committee, which contemplates the use of the market building block and the two angular blocks facing it on the south, the citizens would be required to face an expenditure of $1,750,000 as compared with the latter proposal which would call for a total expenditure of $750,000.

In consideration of the above material facts, the undersigned beg to recommend that the council hold a special meeting of the full and final consideration of the whole question, it being one which the citizens will finally have to dispose of, and which the council must first deal with before it can be submitted to the ratepayers.

Ald. Moresby congratulated the mayor upon the time and energy he had devoted to the idea of a civic centre, and moved that copies of the report be furnished the aldermen. This was agreed to, after which it was decided to go into the whole matter at a special meeting to be called for Monday, August 21.

The report of the city assessor on the cost of widening Pandora avenue to 80 feet and also to 100 feet, was submitted, but it was decided to consider this along with the greater scheme. According to report, to widen to 80 feet will cost approximately $151,774.45; to widen to 100 feet would entail an expenditure of $394,774.32, the difference in cost being $242,999.87, which would be the amount to be charged to the city as a whole should the 20 feet necessary to make the street 100 feet in width be paid for by the city as the owners suggest.

ANOTHER TRIAL FOR COONEY.

Phil Cooney, the clever little shortstop of the Spokane Indians, will have his third trial in major league company next year. Two big league clubs are now bidding for the 1912 services of the foxy little Hebrew, and President Cohn expects to announce a sale within a few days.
Cooney had a try-out with the Cleveland club in the spring of 1910, was turned over to Baltimore and from that club sent to Spokane's champion team. His work with the pennant winners last year was so impressive
from the Chicago Cubs purchased him from the Spokane executive. Up until the day Cohn got Phil back from Chicago he was counted upon as an infield possibility in the 1911 Cub infield
by Chicago newspapermen.
The Boston Americans will probably land Cooney, although Murphy has a

ACCUSED OF MURDER

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 11.—Charles T. Smith, second mate of the barkentine Makawell, was examined before United States Commissioner Krull today on the charge of murdering K. Inabi, a Japanese cabin boy, while off the coast of Australia, on April 8, of this year. The Japanese was missed from the ship and evidence pointed to Smith, inasmuch as he and the boy had quarrelled. Bloodstains were found on the deck rail and hull of the ship, and also on the mate's boots.

MANY ARRESTS FOLLOW CONFESSION

Self-Accused Murderer Says
Black Hand Members Are Active in Toronto

Toronto, Aug. 12.—A confession made by Frank Griro, self-accused murderer of Frank Sciarone, has led to the arrest of eleven other Italians, and more arrests will be made. If what Griro says is right, Toronto is infested with both Black Hand and Camorra, two of the most dangerous blackmailing and vengeance orders in the world. In the course of his statement, Griro spoke as follows:

"There are at the present time a great number of Italians in Toronto who form part of the Camorra of Italy. Members of the Camorra are at the present time on trial in Italy for murder, and the Italians I speak of in Toronto are Camorristas, the same as in Italy. They live on the fat of the land, do no work and hold their fellow-countrymen in constant terror. They form a society with a name that means nothing, hold fake meetings now and then to lure on their compatriots, but their main object is obtaining money with the dagger, stiletto, or gun always over the head of the victim."

"Many lives have been taken on the victim's part," continued Griro. "I gave regularly, but finally tired of giving. I was arrested and many of my enemies started a story that while in custody I had been an informer to the police. This I denied, but it didn't seem to greatly alter their opinions. 'One day a member of the Black Hand came to me and confidentially informed me that a price had been set on my head, and that I might expect to be murdered at any time. I had already heard that enemies were intent on having me, but on later information I decided to never go about without someone with me. This went along for awhile, and every day I feared that somebody would assassinate me. I had trouble with the man I murdered a number of times, and every time he seemed to grow more bold. I finally heard that Sciarone had been detailed to put me out of business, and my fears were then naturally turned toward him."

"When I went out on Sunday I purchased a revolver. I knew I was going to meet death, and wanted to be prepared. I knew from information that I received from friends after the tragedy that my enemies were trailing me, and I made up my mind that I would rather be hanged than cut to pieces."

U. S. WOOL BILL.

Conferees of Senate and House Reach Agreement.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—Doffing their coats, and for the first time in history inviting the newspapermen to be present, the conferees of the two houses of congress on the wool tariff and farmers' free list bills, sat down yesterday to compare their differences. Finally at 6 p.m. they effected a complete agreement on wool and began consideration of the free list bill.

The wool bill, as agreed upon, will be reported to the senate by Senator La Follette and to the House by Representative Underwood. These men will direct the course of the bill in those two bodies. The bill was so amended as to require that the proposal shall take effect October 11, instead of January 11, as provided in the senate and House measures.

The conferees hope to have the report adopted in both houses to-day. The president is expected to veto it. The free list bill was under consideration about 15 minutes, but the conflict between the two houses was so pronounced that it became necessary to postpone action.

After fixing 25 per cent. ad valorem as the duty on raw wool and changing the wool classification so as to conform to the language of the house bill, the conferees soon reached an agreement on other matters of detail.

The change of classification has the effect of creating a flat duty on all wools, and while it reduces rates on ordinary wools from 35 per cent. as provided in the senate bill, and increases the rates on carpet wools to the 25 per cent. fixed by the conferees. In most respects the duties on manufactures of wool were increased over the rates of the House bill so as to make them correspond with the raw wool rate; but in some instances they were made higher than those of either measure.

THINKING THEMES BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

Don't complain if you are not paid. It's the work that's never paid for that is good. Jesus said of the Pharisees, 'Verily I say unto you, they have their reward.' And for that reason their deeds were of no permanent value. Don't expect appreciation. The finest things you do are those that are never appreciated. This is a very piercing gospel and most mortally true. You must make your choice between Success inside and Success outside, between Getting On and Getting Great. If you are going in for high place and money power, you may do so; this is a free country. By all means struggle to the top, if you wish; but do not try to embellish the operation by fine moral sentiments. The whole process, and the aim itself, are immoral. You are committing character suicide. Do not write books and teach a Sunday School class that you have risen by honesty and integrity. The whole range of Samuel Smiles literature, which proclaims that virtue and truth will get a lad a raise from $10.00 to $100.00 a month, and finally three automobiles and the presidency, is only partially true. Absolute virtue is all right for the office boy, but for the private secretary or president is needed an accommodated and flexible rectitude. In the realm of the world's honors, virtue carried to excess is mediocrity. It is the blended brand of righteousness that succeeds on week-days; the bottled-in-bond is too strong.

This is not wicked. On the contrary, it is the opposite teaching that is wicked. In the realm of clear moral vision, to set one's heart on Getting On, on money or fame, is a matter with our civilization. Life, real life, consists in developing one's personality and gifts, in doing useful work for the joy of it and not for pay, and in being good because one likes it and not in order to get to heaven. The moment you do any one of these things for any sort of a price you have become a moral libertine, you belong to 'this evil and adulterous generation.' And you probably don't understand this because you don't understand Jesus.

"SAVING THE SOIL."

Will Be Principal Subject Before Conservation Congress at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 12.—When the most fertile land in the world produces so much less than that of poorer quality elsewhere and this low yield shows a tendency toward a steady decline, the situation becomes clear. We are robbing the soil.

This statement made by Chairman James J. Hill of the Great Northern Railway board, tells briefly what the principal subject of discussion will be at the National Conservation Congress to be held in Kansas City September 25 to 28.

Conservation of the soil will be the main purpose of the meeting. In St. Paul last year, the main subject was "The public lands." The year previous it was "Forest Preservation."

"This time the meeting is being held in the heart of the agricultural country and 'Saving the soil' is to be one of the important subjects."

NEW LUMBER ASSOCIATION.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 12.—A special car will carry the delegation of local lumbermen to Raymond, where they will attend the last meeting of the Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' Association on August 25. The session has been called for the purpose of consolidating this body with the Oregon and Washington Lumber Manufacturers' Association and the Southwestern Lumber Manufacturers' Association.

Because the duties of these organizations have overlapped in the past, the association was asked for, lumbermen deeming one body is better able to look after their interests.

Col. E. L. G. Griggs of Tacoma, is slated to be the first president of the West Coast Lumber Manufacturers' Association.

It is expected that the delegates will also agree on new lumber grading rules. Seattle and Portland lumbermen will take up the matter of changing the grade and standard of ship stock, wood pipe stock and No. 2 grade for ship in both fir and spruce.

FATAL FIGHT IN CROWDED COURTROOM

Justice of Peace and Two Officers Wounded—Assailant Shot by Deputy Marshal

Benton, Ill., Aug. 12.—Attempting to escape after being remanded to jail for examination, Martin Shadowens shot Justice of the Peace James Mannon, City Marshal John Stankinridge and a spectator and Deputy Tom Mackey. Mackey shot and killed Shadowens, whose father, Charles, fell from a second story window and was probably fatally hurt.

The shooting occurred at Christopher, near here. The Shadowens had been arrested for shooting on the streets, after a man named Benges had been injured by a bullet. Martin Shadowens pleaded to be allowed to appear in the justice's court, but Justice Mannon ordered that he be taken to jail.

Without warning Martin shot the justice through the right arm and then put three bullets through the body of Martin Stankinridge, who may die. The courtroom was crowded with spectators. William Schultz received a bullet intended for Mackey. Mackey was injured in approaching Shadowens before he fired the fatal shot. In the excitement Charles Shadowens fell from the courtroom window on the second floor.

WATCHMEN IN LINER.

Immigration Officers Take Steps to Prevent Escape of Chinese Sailors.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 12.—Coming down from the Sound the British steamship Luceric, Captain Mathie, of the Waterhouse Line, ran through a big field of kelp or seaweed which had been washed from the rocks along the Washington shore. At one point they were so thick as to make the passage of the trans-Pacific liner difficult. The weeds got entangled around the propeller and the steamer had to back and manoeuvre about considerably before she could get rid of them.

After the Luceric had tied up at the North Bank dock Immigration Inspectors J. H. Barbour placed watchmen on the Chinese sailors succeeded in making their escape. It is the first time that the immigration service has kept watchmen on the steamers of the Waterhouse Line, as the owners heretofore fled bonds of $500 a head as surety that the Chinese arriving on their vessels would leave on them. But on this trip of the Luceric no such bonds were filed by the company at

CONTINGENT ON RECIPROCITY.

Yesterday in its Vancouver news the Times published a dispatch which stated that Mr. William E. Keller, president of the Globe Grain and Milling Company of California, had practically completed arrangements with the Canadian Pacific railway for satisfactory freight rates on Canadian prairie wheat to be shipped from Vancouver for milling in the large plants
at various parts of California operated by his company. Among other plans discussed in furtherance of this trade development was the building of terminal elevators at Vancouver and the chartering of extensive shipping to carry the grain. Mr. Keller stated that for a start, his company would buy 2,500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat
a year.

The sad contingency upon which the carrying out of these plans depends is the endorsement of reciprocity by the people of Canada. Reciprocity will make possible the success of the undertaking which it might not be possible otherwise to consummate.

What we wish to point out in connection with this item of news is that, had such a scheme been contemplated when there was no reciprocity issue before the country, it would have been hailed as an adumbration of the great future of the increasing markets that are opening for Canadian products. The good people of the Terminal City would even have heralded it as an augury that Vancouver is to become the Liverpool of Canada, and the prompt zeal with which the Canadian Pacific railway facilitated these plans by the adaptation of their freight rates to the occasion would have entitled them to credit
as fostering the business of the west.
No one would have suspected that treason lurked in such an arrangement;
no one would have suggested that the loyalty of the people of Canada was to be submitted to an ordeal which it could scarcely be expected to survive;
no one would have talked of the "thin edge of the wedge" or any one of the thousand and one insane fancies that are used to oppose reciprocity. But the sad fact is that it was not contemplated until the United States government adopted reciprocity.

Since, however, this arrangement is said to be contingent upon reciprocity,
we may look for an early announcement in the Tory press that British Columbia is being added to the provinces that are preparing to manifest their disloyalty by entering an open market, which, by the way, is being brought to their very doors.

Simply because the United States government has agreed to let these two and one half millions of wheat enter the United States free of duty we Canadians who sell it to its merchants are in danger of being entangled in business relations with these so that our whole political policy is rendered subordinate to the wish of the people of Uncle Samuel's republic. When these matters are brought home to us directly, as they are in instances of this kind, the absurdity of the sentimental arguments against reciprocity appear in all their shoddy character. Let us ask the Colonist to tell us in this instance whether it is best to have reciprocity or to repudiate the opportunity to close a deal which will bring wheat westward, advance its price, increase the coast shipping and direct traffic this way, or to hug the delusion that by doing these things we are disintegrating the Empire?

The citizens of Vancouver, whether taxpayers or unattached, are a cosmopolitan people. Of English-speaking they are composed of British born, Canadian, American, Australasian and East Indian, while the remaining medley are from everywhere. Will the increase in building, employment, wages,
business of every sort and the emolument that will accrue from this wheat export make the people of Vancouver less loyal to the British flag and Canadian institutions? Will they come to feel, when the shipments of wheat through their port reach twenty millions a year, that their business affairs are entangled with and dominated by the United States? And if this will not be true of Vancouver, what individual city in Canada can be named as guilty under similar circumstances? If no single city can be designated as one of these that will be entangled in American alliances to its hurt, how can it be said that Canada as a whole will become so affected? Will our contemporary kindly and with "charity" tell us how to answer these questions? We seek instruction from that infallible source.

JOHN OLIVER.

There will be a natural pride among the Liberals of the province that Mr.
John Oliver, ex-M. P. for Delta, has been unanimously tendered and has accepted the nomination to contest the federal constituency of New Westminster. Mr. Oliver enjoys the proud distinction of the confidence of the whole province in his personal integrity and political honor. No man in public life on the mainland of British Columbia ever held so high a place in the confidence of the people. Mr. Oliver's willingness to contest the constituency in an election at which reciprocity must be the predominant issue should give pause to those agriculturists who are disposed to fear the effects of the pact.
Mr. Oliver is intelligently informed on that aspect of the question, and no one who knows him would ever say that he would become the standard-bearer for any party whose policy he believed to be inimical to the country's interests. The Conservatives have not yet the constituency of New Westminster in their vest pocket for delivery to the McBride-Borden junta through the McBride machine.

THE MINERS' STRIKE.

There is a growing impression throughout Canada that the strike of the coal operators in the Crow's Nest Pass and Alberta districts has assumed proportions which manifest the strength of the miners and their evident determination to hold out to the last. The vote taken yesterday confirms the fear that the men are determined not to yield. As the operators have signified their willingness—under protest—to accept the recommendations of the conciliation commission, it is no longer of use to disguise the fact that the miners intend to insist on the recognition of the closed shop principle and the check-off system.

The government, in order to protect the army of people who must be assured of a winter supply of fuel, has removed the duty on coal imported from the United States and the railway companies have granted very much reduced freight rates in order to facilitate the supply of their needs. It would appear, therefore, that the struggle will be prolonged until the miners yield, but it is not likely that they will do so until they are starved into submission by the absorption of their strike fund account.

We refer to these things at this time to give publicity to a rumor which has been quickly confided to the Times that the occasion is to be made use of by emissaries of the Conservative party to turn the situation to political purpose.
The method which is to be adopted is to spring upon the people in the coal mining centres a few days before the election the report that the Dominion government intends to send in the militia to compel the miners to return to work, and thus break the back of the strike. Such a canard, while unscrupulous and unjust in the extreme,
has been actually confided as the policy of an emissary of the machine
who is now not far from the ground.

The Times gives this publicity to the rumor in order that it may reach the districts affected and the communities may be prepared for the canard if it is sprung. It is unlikely, now that the matter is out, that these disastrous measures will develop, but in case they should the Times is quite prepared to give the sources of its information as well as the names of those who are involved in the plot.

More bad news: The Hamilton Herald says not one manufacturing industry will be lost to Hamilton by reason of the reciprocity agreement.

A New York undertaker advertises a $5 funeral "and satisfaction guaranteed." The grouchy man who ever lived never expressed dissatisfaction with his funeral, yet it is hard to believe that one costing $1,000 would be really satisfactory. Bellingham American.

Paris has a new business—collecting dust from vacuum cleaners and selling it for fertilizer. This should be of interest to the anti-reciprocity newspapers that are so deeply concerned about by-products. Mr. Borden also, by the way, was very long on the need for retelling by-products in Canada. The farmers, meantime, are discussing a question affecting chief products. The by's will come later.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Two prominent coal dealers of Winnipeg have gone to Ottawa to ask the government to make the order taking the duty off coal retroactive. They represent that they have imported largely for winter stock and will stand to lose $10,000 if new coal comes in free.
These duties on natural products appear to be terribly inconvenient once you take them off. Are the people of Canada prepared to vote to maintain them now that they have these clear demonstrations where the shoe pinches?

The Times thanks its morning contemporaries for the fine sermon on charity. This paper is published and its editorial columns conducted, not for the purpose of disputing with the Colonist but for the information of the public. We are sorry to have dealt our content so evidently a distressing blow
on the Chinese immigration question.
We have nothing to correct, nothing to explain or for which we shall be "called to time." The Colonist might as well understand this at the start. The Times is conducted, not as a vehicle of personal spite; it is the people's paper, and we are quite prepared at any time to leave our own side, in any controversial matter, to the judgment of that intelligent section of the public who read this paper.

The Canadian Statesman of Bowmanville, Ont., completed its thirty-third year under the same proprietorship, editorship and business management last week. In a review of his long work the editor says: "So far as we know there are probably not a half dozen men in all Canada who have been in active editorial charge of a newspaper continuously for a longer period, and yet we are not in any sense
an old man, although we have seen one generation pass away and wonderful changes have taken place in this town and country." Thirty-three years is a long time to date from one's first editorial. Still it's not 4-11-44.

The sale of a consignment of United States sheep at Toronto last week has started anew the cry that Canadian farmers are to be ruined under reciprocity by the competition of American farmers. The fearful ones should consult the official records of sheep exports and imports. During the last ten years, in spite of high customs duties
in both countries, there was an interchange of sheep to the total value of eleven and three-quarter million dollars, of which trade Canada had the advantage, selling to the United States nearly ten million dollars' worth, and importing only some two millions worth. Canada, on the average, sends about four and a half times as many dollars' worth of sheep and lambs into the United States as the United States sends into Canada. This proportion will doubtless increase under recipi-city.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Under the heading "Abandoned Yankee Farms," the Toronto News publishes, editorially, a column excerpt
from an article by a lush story writer
in an American magazine, and uses it as an argument to frighten the Ontario farmer against reciprocity. Just for fun we reproduce a paragraph: "Further down the valley is an old church giti-less of minister now but for the Sunday afternoon visits of a pastor from a distance. There are no houses near it now;
it represents the ancient centre of population. But an eighth-of-a-mile away an abandoned farm house sits in the lonesome fields. Golden rod and astor bloom midst the neglected gravestones of the local cemetery. Only the birds break the silence. In June the sweet fluting of the Peabodys, and in the mournful twilight the golden throbs of the hermit thrushes. The road winds on now past scattered farms, some abandoned, some looking as if they would soon have to be." The joker in this lies in the fact that we could name
a hundred localities scattered throughout parts of Ontario, any one of which might have afforded a model for the same story at any time during the long reign of the Conservatives in Canada.

SUMMER MONTHS FATAL TO SMALL CHILDREN

The summer months are the hardest of the year on small children. Cholera, infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery and infantum troubles are all common at this time and many a precious life is snuffed out after only a few hours illness. As a safeguard mothers should keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes on suddenly, will bring the little one through safely.

Mrs. Larry DeGrace, Mizonette, N. B., writes: "Last summer my baby suffered greatly from her stomach and bowels and nothing helped her till I began giving her Baby's Own Tablets. They regulated her bowels, sweetened her stomach, and now she is a big healthy, happy child." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The show will be opened by Mrs. McBride, and will be under the patronage of Mrs. Patterson, Lieut. Governor and Mrs. McBride. It is expected that this show, which is the tenth annual one of the society, will be a greater success than ever.

PEA GRAVEL WINS THE DAY AT LAST

PAVING COMPANY'S CONVINCING APPEAL

Will Take City Rock for Use in Concrete Base to Balance Deal

Try, try, try again. That is apparently the motto of the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company. At all events it certainly is so in regard to their expressed desire to have the specifications of the paving contract, under which they are operating, so altered as to admit of their using pea gravel instead of crushed rock in the composition of the asphalt binder to be placed top of the concrete base.

When the council met last night it was faced with the third request of the company on the same proposition, and this time the arguments in favor of the change were advanced so forcibly and so conclusively that the council found its former decision completely out of its hands, with the inevitable result that when the matter came to a final show-down the change was agreed to by a large majority. Only one condition was tacked on to the change. The company incidentally agreed to take all the rock—the city could supply it with from off the city streets for use in the concrete base.

Not a little credit for the council's change of view point on this important topic must be attributed to the verbal efforts of Mr. Keiser, the company's local general manager, who was given an opportunity of addressing the council upon the respective merits of the competing materials. At the outset of his remarks Mr. Keiser explained that there were two reasons why the paving company was desirous of having the change made in the specifications. The first was that it was admitted by all the eminent engineers throughout America that pea gravel was superior to crushed rock in the composition of a binder, and the second was that if the company was forced to use crushed rock the streets of the city would be torn up for two years on account of the impossibility of obtaining crushed rock.

Proceeding, he expressed the view that the attitude of the paving company in this matter had been misunderstood. There was no desire to substitute pea gravel for crushed rock on account of the expense. While it could be shown that pea gravel was slightly cheaper per cubic yard than crushed rock it could also be demonstrated that in the practical usage of the two materials pea gravel was actually cheaper. He stoutly denied the imputation that the desired change was a dodge to save money. It was not a question of expense; it was a question of a perfect pavement. The company was as much interested as the city in having a perfect pavement. They had to maintain it for five years and it was therefore up to them to see that the very best materials were used. He confided in the council that a considerable portion of the company's profits were always made out of maintenance. A perfect pavement at the start meant a great saving in the long run and it was with a view to having that perfect pavement right at the start that the company wanted to be allowed to use pea gravel.

"If you allow us to go on and use the pea gravel we will finish your job by the first of January, but if you do not allow us to use pea gravel the finish will not be in sight for two years," said Mr. Keiser.

Ald. W. F. Fullerton—You took the contract on that basis, did you?

Mr. Keiser—No sir, we were led to understand that while the specifications called specifically for crushed rock there would be little difficulty in having them changed so that pea gravel could be used. He went on to explain that in other cities where the company had operated and where the specifications had been drawn in favor of crushed rock they had been allowed to use pea gravel. It was the general practice throughout America, he claimed. He also quoted a number of eminent authorities giving a preference to pea gravel over crushed rock for binder purposes.

After hearing this convincing exposition of the case for pea gravel the city solicitor was asked if it would have any effect upon the legality of the specifications if the parties should later go into court, and replied in the negative.

The city engineer also sanctioned the change.

Ald. Peden thought that if the company was to reap any benefit as a result of the change it should be handed over to the city.

On the ground that a speedy execution of the contract was what he wanted, Ald. H. M. Fullerton favored the change.

The question of the city rock was then raised by Ald. Okell, who stated that if the company would agree to take the rock off the city streets and use it in their concrete base he would give his favorable consideration to their desire for the change in the binder specifications.

Mr. Keiser, on behalf of the company, immediately agreed to do this and a resolution covering the transaction was at once drawn up and adopted, so that the company not only can use pea gravel in the bin or but it can have the benefit of the city rock undelivered at a dollar a yard, an arrangement apparently satisfactory to all parties.

Aldermen Humber and W. E. Fullerton tacitly opposed the change.

BUILD YOUR HOME IN RICHMOND PARK

Two Blocks From Car Line; Within the Limits and Jurisdiction of Victoria

EVERYONE who sees Richmond Park is immediately struck with its home-like surroundings, and its future possibilities.

This feeling is so strong that a number of people have already decided to build their homes in this locality. All homes so far contemplated will be of a most modern and artistic type of architecture and will be in perfect keeping with the surroundings.

The parklike environment of Richmond Park lends itself readily to the bungalow type so popular among most home builders. This type will be probably the one most used, as very beautiful effects can be produced at a minimum of expenditure.

From the start, we have had the idea of making Richmond Park a place of homes, and from the enthusiastic reception of this subdivision by prospective home builders, it would seem that this idea will be carried out to the letter.

THE KIND OF HOMES SURROUNDING RICHMOND PARK

We will build homes in Richmond Park, designed to your individual requirements. This is a real opportunity for you to secure a good home on easy payments. Come in and see us about it.

RICHMOND PARK has already many improvements, which appeal to the prospective home builder, and when the improvements now under way are completed, this property will have every modern sanitary and civic convenience necessary to home comfort.

Already two streets have sewers, and others will have same as soon as needed by home-builders. Water is also within piping distance, and will be put in as soon as needed.

Street grading is already under way, and will be continued until completed on all streets.

These improvements, and the general environment of Richmond Park, coupled with the building restriction of from $2,000 to $4,000, leave little to be desired from a home standpoint. Personal inspection of Richmond Park by you will prove this.

Let us show you Richmond Park soon.

ABOUT BASEBALL

The fans rubbed it into Jakey yesterday. They think he is a little too friendly with the Tacoma ball players and stands too much talk from them.

Jimmy McGuire, one of those one-time ball players who as an aftermath to an active career on the diamond spend their days wandering into the wilds and fastnesses of baseballdom searching for that very scarce article, raw material suitable to shape into big league ball players, was at the park yesterday. Jimmy is scouting for Cleveland. He is supposed to be travelling incognito and set away off in a corner, hoping thereby to escape unnoticed. When it came to discussing the merits or demerits of the Tacoma and Victoria team members the scout was about as communicative as a clam. He would jaw the head of one about what a bright prospect Victoria was, but when it came to talking ball Jimmy's face assumed a look of impenetrable stupidity. It was all Greek to him, apparently.

Devot came up in the ninth yesterday to bat for McCreery. He lined out a pretty but useless two-bagger to left field.

Victoria plays a double-header in Tacoma to-morrow.

Victoria plays at Seattle next week, Portland at Vancouver and Spokane at Tacoma.

Jimmy Adams, who was recently released from the Vancouver ball team, is in town. Jimmy is planning a trip southwards and hopes to catch a place in the Coast League.

Jakey Baumgarten has been promised a try-out in the Coast League. He will go south after the Northwestern league series finishes, and work for the three weeks by which the Pacific Coast league season overlaps the Northwestern.

Grindle's pegging was very poor yesterday.

Manager Wattellet has already commenced signing on players for next season. He states that the club will not be handicapped next season by having to go over the ground and pick out its men after the other clubs have had their choice.

The standing of the Northwestern league teams is:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Vancouver	70	47	.598
Tacoma	67	49	.577
Seattle	61	53	.535
Spokane	62	55	.529
Portland	57	57	.500
Victoria	30	86	.258

Marty O'Toole, the St. Paul pitcher who brought $22,500 from the Pittsburghers, lost his first start after the record sale, Minneapolis hammering him out of the box in five innings. However, St. Paul scouted blame catcher Land, whose injured hand caused a weakness in the receiving unit.

of the battery which affected his pitcher.

If the Phillies win the National league bunting Sherwood Magee may play in the world's series. So says President Lynch of the National circuit, who states that the Philly player was only suspended to the end of the National league season, and after that he becomes a free agent.

Pitcher McCammett will rejoin the Victoria ball club in Seattle next week.

REVOLUTIONIZE BASEBALL

Minors Would Do Away With Drafting—Subject Will Be Discussed.

It is a far cry to Tuesday, November 7, but on that date baseball history may be made at San Antonio, Tex. At that time and place the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues of the United States is to meet to take action on the most important subject that has ever come before organized baseball.

This is nothing more or less than the possible abrogation of the ten-year agreement between the big leagues and the minor leagues, by which the big leagues are allowed to take from the class A minors any of the best players for the paltry sum of $1,000, and from the class B minors for $750.

To realize how important the subject is to baseball, it is only necessary to say that at the present time there is one manager in the Coast League who has been offered no less than $5,000 for a green, untried pitcher, who has not worked more than one or two games, and has not been on the payroll six months. Gipe might have been drafted for $1,000.

EASTERN LACROSSE

The standing of the eastern lacrosse teams to date is:

	W.	L.	For.	Agst.
Tecumseh	8	1	72	27
Montreal	5	1	55	25
National	5	2	63	41
Toronto	5	3	62	54
Shamrocks	2	5	21	59
Cornwall	0	9	37	109

Tecumseh have three hard games to play yet. They will have one of them next Saturday, when they meet the Nationals at the Island. The Nationals do not consider themselves by any means out of the race, and to stay in they have to beat Tecumseh next Saturday. Montreal is playing Cornwall to-day. The Winged Wheelers have an off day this week end, but they are not letting up in their training. Cornwall has always proved a stubborn team to beat on their own grounds, as Shamrocks found to their cost on Saturday. Therefore, Montreal takes no chances. Toronto is playing Shamrocks to-day. Capitals, who have not yet won a game, have an off-day.

"I understand that Mr. Pinchenny has been operated on for appendicitis," remarked Miss Cayson. "Yes, it's the first time any one was known to get anything out of him." But you see they had to give him morphine to get that.

WESTHOLME CO. TO BUILD SEA WALL

LEGAL ACTION MAY BE THE RESULT OF MOVE

Stedham Was Allowed to Assign His "Right" to Contract to Larger Concern

The contract for the construction of the Ross Bay sea wall was given to the Westholme Lumber Company by the city council last night on the recommendation and report of the city solicitor, to whom the matter had been referred pending the placing of the $20,000 bond by Thomas Stedham, the contractor to whom the contract had originally been awarded, and who in the interval had assigned his right to the company named, the said company agreeing to adopt his figure for the work, namely $69,301 plus the $4,662 for extras.

This action on the part of the council did not go unnoticed. John Haggerty, who submitted the second lowest bid for the contract, declared he was not being given a square deal and threatened legal action, and Aid Humber and Gleason strongly opposed the assignment of the contract to another company before the contract had been ratified.

It may be recalled that the contract was awarded to Mr. Stedham on condition that he could furnish the necessary bonds. These bonds, while apparently capable of submission, have never been put up by Mr. Stedham, but on the recommendation of the city solicitor the council allowed the Westholme Lumber Company to take over the contract and put up the bonds themselves.

The report of the solicitor on the subject is an interesting document and is as given below: "Your resolution of last week directed me, on the furnishing of a proper bond, to enter into a contract with Mr. Thomas Stedham for the building of this wall upon the specifications for $69,301, and to insert in the specifications certain additions which were mentioned in the report of the committee. Mr. Thomas Stedham professed his entire ability to furnish the proper bonds but assigned all his interest in the contract to the Westholme Lumber company, who thereupon undertook to furnish the bond of the Maryland Casualty Company for $20,000, and I have their agent's letter that the same would be furnished as soon as the contract is signed. "In the consideration of the extras the price which was furnished me by the city engineer was $4,662 as being a fair price to offer the contractor. Mr. Cameron asked $5,915, which he insisted was the only price at which he could accept the same. After a very considerable talk it was finally agreed that the sum of $4,662 should be paid for the said extras. This was arrived at as a sort of compromise, based, to some extent, upon the fact that the resolution of the council was that if Mr. Stedham did not furnish the bond by the ninth instant Mr. Haggerty's tender should be accepted and his tender, and Mr. Haggerty's tender was exactly $4,662 higher than the tender of Mr. Stedham; so that in the net result, the contract is not being drawn to the Westholme Lumber Company for the exact price of Mr. Haggerty's tender and with all the extras included."

In order to avoid a further outbreak of the teamsters' grievance a clause has been inserted in the contract providing that no teams shall be hired which are not owned by residents of the city, unless the council shall otherwise give permission.

In reply to a question, the city solicitor pointed out that section A of the wall had to be completed by the 30th November this year, and section B by the 30th November of next year. This gave rise to a discussion on the penalty clause, and the solicitor stated that a penalty clause had been inserted in the contract. Aid Humber mocked at the penalty clause and asked why it was not used in connection with the Dallas road sea wall, the completion of which was already overdue. He was going to object to the whole business. It was not right that a contract should be assigned before it was ratified. What right had Stedham to assign away a contract that was not yet his? If he wanted to do that why not wait till he got the contract? He claimed that the council's resolution made it perfectly clear that on the failure of Stedham to produce the bonds the contract would automatically go to Haggerty.

Aid Gleason also objected to the Westholme Lumber Company getting the contract. They were not the lowest tenderers, and he could not see what right they had to step in and relieve another contractor by agreeing to do the work at his figure. He thought that the next lowest bidder should certainly have received the favorable consideration of the council. Mr. Haggerty, who was present during the discussion, also protested against the proposed action of awarding the contract to the Westholme Lumber Company. Finally, however, (Concluded on page 12.)

IVERNIA'S CAPTAIN SEVERELY CENSURED

Inquiry Into Stranding of the Cunard Liner Concluded at Liverpool

Judgment has been delivered at Liverpool in the Board of Trade inquiry into the stranding of the Cunard liner, Ivernia, on St. Peter's Head, on May 24th.

The court found that the vessel struck on or near the rock, and was seriously damaged through the wrongful act and default of the master, Thomas Potter, in navigating the vessel at too great a rate of speed in inclement weather, and in the neglect to verify the actual position of the vessel from time to time by the lead.

The court, however, was satisfied that the course set by the master from the Old Head of Kinsale was in itself a safe and proper course, had it been made good, and believes that such a course was not made good owing to some unknown error in the compass, for the non-discovery of which neither the master nor any other officer of the vessel appears to blame. The court having taken into consideration the circumstances, and also the long length of service and great experience of the master in the transatlantic trade into its most careful consideration, it is in this case freed from the painful necessity of dealing with the master's certificate, but severely censured him, and orders him to contribute £50 towards the cost of the inquiry.

MARINE NOTES

The tug Red Fir has been hauled out on Turpin's Ways for a general overhauling.

The Kamakura Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line, sails from the Orient wharf this afternoon for the Orient.

The steamer Strathgarry, which has been a week discharging sugar at the Vancouver Sugar Refinery, came over here to go into dock at Esquimalt. After being overhauled, she will proceed to Gray's Harbor to load lumber for Australia.

The tramp steamer Strathgarry cleared from Hongkong for Portland, Ore., on Monday. She has been chartered by the Bank line to take a sailing between that of the Orient and the Suvaric, leaving Vancouver for the Orient October 23rd.

The Princess Royal, Capt. Neroutos, sailed last night for Skagway via Prince Rupert, Wrangell, Ketchikan and Juneau. Among the passengers of the steamer was W. Marchant, customs inspector, who went north on a tour of inspection. He was accompanied by Mrs. Marchant.

The Tees, which has been having an overhaul, was floated from the B. C. Marine Ways yesterday. After some alterations to her bunkers she is expected to be ready for service on Tuesday, when she will return to the west coast route, on which the Princess Mary has been replacing her.

The third Harrison direct liner, the Senator, arrived at San Francisco Thursday. She is due here August 24. The fourth liner, the Chancellor, got away from Liverpool on schedule time on Saturday. The Candidate, which is now loading a cargo of coal at Nanaimo for San Francisco, is due there August 25 en route to Liverpool. The Candidate's cargo will include one of the largest shipments of canned fruit ever taken from this coast.

It is possible that the Pacific Coast Steamship Co.'s S. S. Queen will omit the call at the Mair Glacier, Alaska, on her trip. Mrs. Hart, the official lecturer on the excursion steamer, states that the famous glacier is becoming honeycombed, and predicted two trips ago that it would not be safe to travel on much longer. She reports later that the glacier is so dangerous that she believes that the Queen will omit further stops there, inasmuch as the surface of the glacier is too soft and the ice is disintegrating too rapidly to allow of walking on it.

FOR ISLANDS RUN

Capt. Sears is negotiating for a New Steamer.

Captain A. A. Sears, part-owner and master of the ill-fated Iroquois, is negotiating for a steamer for the Gulf Islands run. He has a tidy little steamer in mind, and hopes to be successful in securing it in time to make definite arrangements early next month. Since the loss of the Iroquois Capt. Sears has been carrying out his mail contract with a gasoline launch.

PAINTED HIS VESSEL AS SHE LAY AGROUND

Captain of Fulton, Finding Her Uninjured, Took Advantage of Novel Position

Seattle, Aug. 12.—Not damaged in the least by her mishap off Bush Point, and with a new coat of paint which was put on while the vessel was high and dry on the beach, the steam schooner Fulton, Captain R. B. McKay, put into port yesterday.

"The fog was as thick as mush and it was difficult to see the lights," said Captain McKay. "I got a glimpse of the Bush Point light, but I thought it was another vessel. I was afraid of getting into a collision with the Canadian Pacific liners and was moving as cautiously as possible when we went aground."

The Fulton's forward part was up on the beach, which shelves rapidly and at low tide all but her stern was out of water.

Captain McKay took advantage of this and put the crew to work painting and cleaning the vessel's hull. When high tide came the work had been completed and the Fulton drifted off her sandy bed. The vessel yesterday loaded a cargo of 25 tons of tea, which will be discharged at Tacoma.

FOLLOWING THE GOOD EXAMPLE OF CANADA

American Government Further Extending Wireless System in Waters of Alaska

Washington, Aug. 12.—For the aid and protection of navigation and also, as a strategic measure, the navy department is preparing to extend the wireless system of Alaska. A powerful station will be erected on the Aleutian Islands next year. It will be superior to any in Alaska at present and will have a radius of 1500 miles at night and 800 miles during the day.

In time of war this, with the army and navy stations already in Alaska, would keep the territory in close touch with the Pacific fleet and the western coast of United States. The cruiser Buffalo is in Alaskan waters erecting wireless stations on Kodiak, Unalaska and St. Paul's Island.

While plans are maturing for the extension of the wireless in Alaska, work has actually begun on the powerful station at Fort Myer, Va., just out side of the national capital. This will be completed by May 1, and will enable the navy department to communicate with any naval vessel in the Atlantic as far as the coastline of the United States extends.

STEWARDS ON LINER ARE IN CUSTODY

Arrested on Arrival at Montreal Charged With Refusing to Perform Duties

Montreal, Aug. 12.—Seventy-eight men, comprising the entire contingent of first and second class stewards, of the Allan liner Victorian, were arrested and driven to jail on arrival of that vessel from Liverpool this afternoon. Their arrest was due to the fact that they refused to perform their duties at Rimouski and during the voyage up to arrival at that point. The men were taken into custody without any signs of trouble and seemed somewhat surprised that the company should have called the shore laws to settle the difficulties.

The trouble started when the vessel arrived at Rimouski this morning and the stewards refused to assist in putting the mail ashore. This has been a grievance for some time and was the cause of some little trouble last year, but since the spring, when the Allan liners ceased putting the mail, except that for the Maritime Province, ashore at Quebec, the amount handled at Rimouski has been so small as not to cause trouble.

Eczema Cure a Beauty Wash

Although Dr. D. D. Prescription has been recognized for years as the one remedy for Eczema, Psoriasis, and all other forms of skin diseases, it is now known that there is no other wash, even those used by the beauty specialists, that can compare with this mild liquid for cleansing the skin of pimples, blackheads, rash, and all similar skin affections.

For this reason alone, a bottle of Dr. D. D. should be kept on hand in every household. A free trial bottle will show you the merits of this great remedy as a complexion wash.

Dr. D. D. seems to remove the cause, what ever the trouble may be, cleansing the skin, and leaving it as soft, as smooth and clear as that of a healthy child.

Write the Dr. D. D. Laboratories, Dept. V.T., 49 Colborne St., Toronto, and prove its wonderful effectiveness.

FIRST CAR OF NEW WHEAT AT WINNIPEG

Shipped From Southern Part of Province—Averaged 27 Bushels to Acre

Winnipeg, Aug. 12.—The first car of new wheat was received on the Winnipeg market to-day. It is from Southern Manitoba, and grades No. 1 hard and averaged 27 bushels to the acre. The berry is firm and large, with no evidence of rust. The farmer, near Carman, who shipped the car, has 300 acres and the whole is declared to be equally as good. It weighs above the average and is considered a fair indication of the Manitoba crop.

To-day the weather is hot and clear all over the prairie provinces, with harvesting becoming general. The shipment to-day was consigned to the Ogilvie Milling Company.

LEEBRO RETURNS

The Leebro, Capt. Hunter, returned yesterday after being away seven weeks, placing buoys and landing stores at northern B. C. lighthouses. Buoy were placed at the two entrances to Rose harbor, where the Canadian Northern Pacific Fisheries Company has a whaling station, and all the lighthouses north of Pultney point were visited and supplied with stores.

Captain Hunter reports that all the lightkeepers were well and had nothing out of the ordinary to report. All

Here is an objection offered to Life Insurance but easily met by our policies—I may be forced to let the policy lapse from financial difficulties and through no fault of my own.

Here is the answer—Our automatic non-forfeiture clause provides for this. After a policy has been in force three years it has an actual cash value sufficient to carry the policy for some time. This value increases every year. This is only a stronger reason why you should insure to-day. Your opportunity is now.

SUNDAY LABOR

To the Editor:—In last night's Time I noticed that a Chinaman had been fined for delivering laundry on a Sunday. It seems very funny to me that a poor Chinaman has to be fined for working on the Sabbath day.

If we go around to Dallas road, we may see the men working on the Dallas sea wall, or if we go along Belleville street we may see the rock crusher at work. If we continue our walk into the quieter streets we see men working on their houses, lathing and shingling, etc.

Are not these offences as grave as that of the poor Chinaman? They see the white people working on that day which ought to be kept sacred, why shouldn't they? Don't you think, Mr. Editor, that the white people are in part to blame for having laundry delivered on Sunday? Maybe the gentleman has only one shirt and sends it to the laundry on Saturday and it must be ready for Sunday, as he wants to go canoeing or driving in the afternoon. The ladies may also be in some such state as this too.

FAIRPLAY.

ENTERTAINING THE WORKING-MAN.

To the Editor:—I often wondered what we would do for information and amusement but for the newspapers. And if there is one thing more amusing than another it is the Colonist telling the people of this city what to do and what is good for them. I will remember the morning after the day that the Esquimalt Water Works by-law was defeated, the bitter attack it made on Mayor Morley and how it upbraided the people for not passing the measure. In fact it went so far as to say the people would never go to Sooke, and yet three months after they decided on so doing by an overwhelming majority. Fancy the Colonist telling the people in general and the workmen in particular that reciprocity will be very bad for them. The Colonist may not think so, but it is one of the biggest working factors for reciprocity that we have, and it is to be sincerely hoped that the editor of that journal will keep on telling the people how ruinous it will be for them when it passes, which it most assuredly will.

HERBERT PHIPPS.

Prior street, August 11.

RECIPROCITY AND CHEAP FOOD.

To the Editor:—Can you, or any of your readers, tell me how it is, under practically the same conditions of agriculture in Washington and Oregon to what we have in British Columbia, that we have to pay from 50 per cent. to 100 per cent. more for the necessary food supplies than they can be bought for here in Seattle? I have just returned from that city, and will give you some of the food prices there in the open market—retail, not wholesale: Legs of mutton, 10c; legs of lamb, 12½c; how does that compare with our 25c and 35c per lb.? Beef, pork and veal at proportionate rates; smoked hams, 14c and 15c; smoked shoulders (Picnic hams here), 10c; new potatoes, $1.50 per 100 lbs.; flour, from $1.00 to $1.40; all from 20 per cent. to 50 per cent. under the prices in Victoria. I asked various people in and about Seattle why the difference in price, and the unvarying reply was: The B. C. farmers were lazy and did not make the most of their opportunities. I am thinking there must be something in that. I personally know quite a few so-called farmers who have from 100 to 150 acres each, and some of them have been on their farms for 25 years and have not cleared 10 acres yet. In fact, one man has not cleared over 2 acres in 12 years. Fellow-workers, don't be gulled by political clap-trap about loyalty and protecting home produce that is not able to supply your needs. First be loyal to yourselves and see that you get good food and as cheap as possible to buy it, and you will find the producer here will be stimulated to greater activity and will compete with the American for this market. Don't fail to record your vote at the polling booth in favor of reciprocity.

OBSERVER.

A STREET INCIDENT.

To the Editor:—I was at the corner of Fort and Douglas street last night when the ambulance, containing the working man who was injured on the V. & S. track while heroically endeavoring to save a companion, dashed down Douglas street on its way to St. Joseph's hospital. The driver of the ambulance was ringing his bell for a clear passage as he came towards Fort street. A street car was taking on passengers at the corner of Douglas as the ambulance approached. Just as it was about to pass, the car started to turn the corner on to Fort street compelling the ambulance driver to hold in his horses and swerve from his course, thus checking his speed and delaying his arrival at the hospital with the man inside who was so terribly injured.

I could not help contrasting this, Mr. Editor, with the way traffic is cleared for the passage of the fire chief's motor when a fire alarm is rung. Does it not seem to clear out the argument of some people that in this enlightened age we still regard property as of more value than human life?

Surely it is time we had some regulations regarding street traffic that will make such occurrences an impossibility in future. It appears to me that this is a matter that might better occupy the attention of our city fathers than the meddlesome interference with harmless street speakers that has taken so much of their attention of late.

In the first place, the hospitals should have ambulances with motor power and rubber tires that would be fast and easy running, and if the public and private contributions to these institutions are not sufficient to meet this expense, then in the name of all that is humane and merciful let the city provide them.

In the second place these motor ambulances should be equipped with sirens so that there can be no excuse for not hearing them and understanding the urgency of their mission. We citizens of Victoria are far behind some of our sister cities in this matter and it is time we got abreast of the times.

In our desire to make it "the City Beautiful," let us not overlook such important essentials as these. Let us throw no obstacles in the way of those engaged in saving human life.

ANDREW BLYGH.

MARRIAGES IN WASHINGTON STATE

Licenses Brought in Revenue of $57,703.50 During the Past Year

Olympia, Wash., Aug. 12.—During the year 1910 there were 13,323 couples licensed to wed, according to figures now on file with the state bureau of inspection and the state is enriched $57,703.50 at the rate of $4.50 a license.

This is at the rate of more than 1,900 a year, $50 a week and about $9 a day. Estimating the population of the state at 1,100,000 these figures mean that one person in every 96 has taken out a marriage license, and one in every 48 in the state has been married. The rate runs much higher in some counties and very much lower in others. The greatest number of licenses issued were in King county, there being 3,523.

The receipts in the auditor's office do not show accurately the number of licenses issued, as in many instances the affidavits needed are secured outside of the office, so the figures were compiled from the returns in the office of the county clerk, where the returns are filed, the clerk receiving $1 for each license recorded.

These figures represent the actual number of marriages performed and not the number of licenses issued, in event some licenses have been taken out and the marriage never performed.

The lowest number of marriage returns in any county is reported to be in San Juan county, where there were only seven returns filed, while the auditor's figures show that 15 licenses were issued.

BOY DROWNED.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 12.—As a result of a systematic police search the lifeless body of Daniel Piper, aged 7, was found in the mud at the foot of the Fifteenth Street dock. The boy was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Piper, 1223 South E street, and had been away from home since early Wednesday afternoon.

Clad in overalls and a cap, the boy was playing with a companion, Harry Brown, Wednesday afternoon when it was proposed that they come down town. The boys reached the waterfront and for a long time played in a pile of lumber refuse on the Fifteenth Street dock. During the evening the Brown boy returned home alone, saying nothing to his parents of the journey.

When her son failed to return home Wednesday night Mrs. Piper telephoned the police his description, appealing to them to organize a search. Officers on the streets were notified, and as nothing was heard of the lad all night the police officials detailed Detectives Brown and Reeb on the case when they reported yesterday morning. The detectives visited the Piper home, and while quizzing the youngsters of the neighborhood learned for the first time that the Piper boy was seen in the company of Harry Brown. The youngster admitted that he and the Piper boy had gone to the dock to play. However, he became confused at the questioning, and told the officers varying stories, all indicating that his playmate had fallen off the dock. He had been afraid to tell of the experience for fear of being scolded, it later developed.

The Piper boy's parents and dock employees joined in the search with grappling hooks. While the tide was going out rapidly, the body was recovered directly at the foot of the dock. It is thought the lad struck his head in falling and immediately sank into the mud which held him fast.

To Give Men Better Tailoring Service Than They Have Ever Had Before.

"Our object all sublime
We have achieved this time."

The new Semi-ready store is open. During our business life in Victoria for the past many years we have been associated with Semi-ready Tailoring, and we quickly availed ourselves of the opportunity of securing the sole-selling rights for Victoria city.

There are certain and distinctive ideals and advantages about Semi-ready Tailoring. It is real tailor-made, mind you, and not "ready-made" clothes. It is an organization conducted in a large way, with the power and ability to secure and hold the very best talent available.

It is specialized tailoring, with never a cheap or careless garment, made in model shops.

With a depot in England the finest weaves and the latest patterns from the British woollen mills are quickly bought and forwarded to Canada.

The buyers—the wearers—are protected in every possible way in order that the good name of "Semi-ready" may retain its prestige and its fame continue to flourish.

Coupled with a guarantee of absolute service, Semi-ready Clothes are sold at a plain marked price, and at the same price everywhere in Canada—the same in the West as in the East—the same price here as in Montreal or Toronto.

May we show you? And it's a pleasure to have you come in and just look about a bit.

PROPOSED PLAN TO AID IMMIGRANTS

Scheme is Being Considered by Vancouver Board of Trade

Vancouver, Aug. 11.—To prevent a monthly outflow of at least $45,000 from Vancouver, to increase the city's population, and to aid the immigrant who desires to bring here his wife and family, is the aim of the Vancouver Board of Trade, as expressed at its regular monthly meeting during a discussion upon the question of inaugurating a branch of the "Imperial Home Reunion Association," established in Winnipeg to enable immigrants to send for their wives and families under a system of assisted passages.

Mr. Foster, who is well acquainted with the Winnipeg branch of the association, spoke most interestingly on the subject and demonstrated that there are at least 1,500 men in Vancouver to-day who are not earning more than an average salary of $60 per month, out of which they send $30 monthly to their families in the Old Country. The speaker contended that at the rate of $30 remaining to the individual settler the latter is practically unable to send for his family and that his very inability to do so inspires in him ultimately a sentiment of dissatisfaction which can only tend to cause him to leave his place of employment in search of more remunerative work, which, all again, means a loss of population.

Winnipeg has experimented most successfully with this scheme of assisted immigration, and the idea is to obtain the guarantee of about 75 representative business men to an individual contribution of $225. This money is then placed in a bank and held there for the purpose of assisting worthy immigrants. When about ten or twelve applications for such assistance have been received they are submitted to a special committee for approval, which is granted upon the recommendation of the applicant's employer and such other persons as can testify to his industry and sobriety. To insure the applicant's good faith he is required to deposit himself 20 per cent. of the amount necessary, while the remainder is loaned to him at an interest rate of six per cent. So far no loss has been reported by the Winnipeg branch," said Mr. Foster.

The discussion following Mr. Foster's address displayed a most decided tendency in favor of the plan, which found its climax in the appointment of a special committee to look more thoroughly into the matter and report at the next meeting.

INSPECTING RAILWAYS

Vancouver, Aug. 11.—Messrs. James Ogilvie and Edward C. Lalonde, assistant chief operating officers of the board of railway commissioners, who are now making an official tour of inspection, will undertake a similar mission. It is their intention to inspect the 112 coast section of the Grand Trunk Pacific now in operation.

On their return here the officers will begin a similar inspection of the Canadian Pacific railway which will require visits to many large western centres. Their powers are very wide and give them authority to report on railway terminals, depot facilities, motive power and train equipment, as well as freight and passenger service. Both visitors are veteran railway men with wide experience. They will report to the railway commission which will meet here on August 31.

RUSHING WORK ON SPUR

Nelson, Aug. 11.—Within two weeks 500 men will be at work grading the new C. P. R. spur from Three Forks to the Lucky Jim mine, said W. G. Tierney, railroad contractor. Mr. Tierney has the contract for the construction of the new road and expects to get up to Three Forks to-morrow to get the work under way.

Although the length of the spur is only about five miles Mr. Tierney is employing a force of men as the work must be rushed as quickly as possible. He hopes to have the line completed by January 1 next year.

"Fruit-a-tives" Brings Natural Results in a Natural Way.

"I am a seventy-nine-year-old man and a great believer in, and user of, 'Fruit-a-tives.'"

"Stricture of the Bowels was the complaint I suffered from and I found that 'Fruit-a-tives' did me more good than any other remedy. My doctor advised me to stick to 'Fruit-a-tives' and I have done so with best result."

"I have been in business here for a good many years and have been a resident of Otterville for over 50 years."

"W. M. PARSONS," Otterville, Ont., July 8, 1910.

"Fruit-a-tives" is Nature's laxative. 'Fruit-a-tives' is made of the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes. 'Fruit-a-tives' acts on the human system like fresh fruit—easily and gently—yet just as effectively as the old-time pill.

"Fruit-a-tives" does not gripe or irritate the intestines. It regulates the bowels and cures Constipation because 'Fruit-a-tives' acts directly on the liver.

Just try "Fruit-a-tives" when you need a mild, gentle yet effective laxative and liver regulator.

ASK CHANGE IN BY-LAW

Restaurant Keepers Present Views to Licence Commissioners.

Vancouver, Aug. 11.—With assurances that no renewal of licence would be granted, the Junction Inn after the close of this year and that no further licences would be given in the district south of False Creek at least for some years to come, a large deputation of ratepayers left the city hall in a very happy state of mind.

Mayor Taylor explained that the hotel in question was operating under a provincial licence which held good to the end of December and that all the city could do for the present was to see that the hotel was living up to the requirements of the by-law. However, he could assure the deputation on behalf of the commissioners that the licence would not be renewed after the expiration of the current year and that no further licences would be granted in the district for some time to come.

A. B. Lamberton headed a deputation of the Vancouver Restaurant Keepers' Association. He asked the commissioners to reconsider the by-law recently enacted which provides for the closing of all restaurants connected with licensed premises at midnight. He thought that it was both disadvantageous to the public and to trade. The commissioners promised to consider the matter.

Dr. Spencer wrote the commissioners complaining about the alleged illicit vending of liquor by the Chinese in Vancouver. Dr. Spencer stated that there were many "home-made" operations with a view to the sale of liquor to the Chinese. This will be referred to the provincial police.

PROPOSED NEW SCHOOL

Comox, Aug. 11.—A meeting of parents and others interested in the proposed school at Nob Hill was held at the residence of W. Gage. Messrs. Gage, Hawkins and Ratford were elected trustees under the requirements of the Education Act. A site comprising one acre offered by Mr. Smith at $100 was decided upon. It was found that there would be 32 children of an age to attend the school when erected, and it was therefore decided to petition the Education Department with a view to getting the government to build the school instead of establishing an "assisted school" as previously proposed.

C. C. Piercy has been appointed postmaster.

A steady business in real estate has been kept up during the summer, among large deals may be noted the sale of Mr. Beckenell's farm for $10,000.

Doane Brothers are starting a new camp on the Torrance property at Nob Hill whence they expect about two years' work.

PRINCE RUPERT METHODISTS TO BUILD

Decide to Proceed With Erection of New Church and Parsonage

Prince Rupert, Aug. 11.—At a meeting of the quarterly official board of the Methodist church it was decided to proceed with the construction of a church building on the ground owned at the corner of Mungrave Place and Sixth avenue. Tenders will be called for at once, and this church, once completed, will be one of the most tasteful and substantial in British Columbia. The whole church property, including the parsonage, will represent a valuation of from $20,000 to $25,000. The seating capacity will be from 500 to 800. The structure will be 45x75, with ten feet of eave. There will be a basement for the holding of minor meetings and young peoples gatherings. The building will be thoroughly up-to-date, and in line with the progressive spirit of the city.

The church will be steam heated and lit by electricity. There will be ladies' parlors, and a pipe organ has been donated by the Metropolitan church, Victoria.

The old church building which has accommodated the congregation since the start of Prince Rupert will be removed to stand close to the new church, and be used as a recreation room.

GETS TWO YEARS

New Westminster, Aug. 11.—Beverly H. Welling, who was arrested in Vernon recently and brought back to this city, pleaded guilty to the theft of $403.30 from the Great Northern Railway Company and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for the G. N. R. commenced to work on July 26 and disappeared on July 26 with over $400. He is only 22 years of age and claims to have worked for the C. P. R. for some time at North Bay.

In the County Court George W. Ward, who pleaded guilty to two charges of burglary and theft, was sentenced to two months' imprisonment on the first count and three months on the second count, the sentences to run consecutively.

FOUND DEAD IN BED

Kamloops, Aug. 11.—Malcolm McLeod, a lumberman, was found dead in bed at the Queen's hotel. On entering the room, one of the Chinese attendants discovered the man was dead, and the police were notified. He had been suffering for some time with a cancerous growth on his face and came to town a few days ago to secure medical attendance.

MAKE YOUR OWN HAIR TONIC

A SPECIALIST'S ADVICE

In a recent issue the New York Herald published a special article on the care of the hair, in which was given the formula for a home-made Hair Tonic, which was highly recommended for its remarkable hair-growing properties, as well as for stopping falling hair, revitalizing the hair roots, destroying the dandruff germ and restoring gray hair to its natural color. This article was of special interest to me, as the formula was one which I myself have prescribed in countless cases with most astonishing results. I remember one case in particular in which I prescribed it for a man who had been bald for many years and in less than two months after he began its use his head was completely covered with a luxuriant growth of rich, glossy hair, thus proving that hair can be made to grow on a bald head, notwithstanding the opinion of many persons to the contrary.

For the benefit of those who have not seen it before, I give the formula herewith: 6 ounces of Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavona de Compose, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Lavona de Compose in the Bay Rum, and then add the Menthol Crystals, shake thoroughly and apply night and morning to the roots of the hair, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. This preparation contains no coloring matter, but restores gray hair to its natural color by its action on the hair roots. If you desire it perfumed, add one teaspoonful of Y-Kalon Perfume, which combines perfectly with the other ingredients and imparts a most pleasing scent.

NEGOTIATING SALE OF STREET RAILWAY

Sir W. Mackenzie Confers With Committee of Winnipeg Council

Winnipeg, Aug. 12.—President Mackenzie, of the Winnipeg Street Railway Company, and a special committee of the city council is in secret session today trying to settle the sale of about $24,000,000 of the interests of the company in Winnipeg. The city insists that the basis of the negotiations shall be: That an independent audit of the company's books shall show 7 per cent, earning on the purchase price.

Sir W. Mackenzie insists that 5 per cent, is sufficient. He wants the stock to be sold on a basis of $250. He also refuses to sell the suburban lines: If he sticks to this, all the negotiations will fall through.

The secrecy surrounding the whole affair has created a general prejudice against the purchase, which cannot become law until submitted to a vote of the ratepayers.

Will Not Permit Civic Audit.

Winnipeg, Aug. 12.—(Later.)—Sir William Mackenzie concluded his preliminary negotiations with the city this morning, and while Mayor Evans announced his satisfaction with the interview, it is asserted that the proposed bargain for the sale of the street railway will not materialize. Sir William declined to permit a civic audit of the books, and has also pointed out that for $15,000,000 the city does not secure the suburban holdings of the company. The magnate goes west to-night. In ten days he will return to the city from Vancouver. It is stated that he will show the offer to stand until that day.

AUTO ACCIDENT.

Car Plunges Through Trestle and One of the Occupants Is Fatally Injured.

Vancouver, Wash., Aug. 12.—Plunging through the railing of the mile trestle which spans the Columbia slough, within 100 feet of the places where two other automobiles have crashed through to their destruction within the last year, P. A. Shoemaker, a Portland plumber, drove his car into this space and fatally injured Frank Mitchell, his companion.

Shoemaker was driving his car at fifty miles an hour, when he came to the sharp turn. He lost control, and after crashing into an approaching wagon he veered off through the railing.

FAIR ARRANGEMENTS PROCEEDING Apace

Horse Show Will Be Larger Than Ever Before—Parachute Jumping

Arrangements for the Victoria fair and horse show, to be held from September 5 to 9, inclusive, are proceeding apace and the management is now able to assure the public of a larger and better display than ever before.

Commencing on the Tuesday there will be five night sessions in the horse show. Besides the numerous other trophies to be competed for there will be a challenge cup for class 22, ladies' phaetons, presented by Miss Helen Farrell, daughter of J. D. Farrell, of Seattle, to be won twice by the same owner. Little Miss Farrell has always been one of the largest exhibitors in the horse shows of this city and a popular winner of many events.

F. C. Fuller of Ottawa, will in all probability act as judge at the horse show. Mr. Fuller has signified his willingness to officiate and acceptance of his offer was wired to-day. The management has been very fortunate in securing once more the services of Mr. Clements as ring-master.

It is expected that there will be many entries in the heavy and light horse-breeding classes, and in consequence there will be keen competition for the cup presented by the A. B. C. Association, per Turner, Boston & Co., for the best exhibit of horses bred in British Columbia.

Among the features to be introduced at the fair this year will be something entirely new, an exhibition of parachute jumping. F. M. Patrick, of Beltingham, is sending over two aeronauts, a man and a woman, who will make a balloon ascent and a parachute leap every day.

The broncho-busting competitions have proved very popular of late years and this year the management proposes to stage a display unequalled by that at any previous fair. A. P. Day, John Quail and Babb, of Medicine Hat, own practically the only bronchos in Canada, which are still thoroughly versed in the art of bucking in all its variations, and they are being negotiated with by the B. C. Agricultural Association for the sending of these horses to Victoria for fair week. These same bronchos exhibited their prowess at Calgary last year and were the sensation of the fair.

EMPEROR OF JAPAN.

The Emperor of Japan, from the Orient, reached the outer wharf at 4 o'clock this afternoon with a large passenger list and a million dollars worth of silk. She has on board some of the crew of the wrecked Empress of China.

THE SECRET OF GOOD COOKING

The Secret of Good Cooking lies in the ability of the cook to adjust the heat to a nicety for the work in hand. Only the modern Electric Range affords this advantage. With it half a dozen different foods can be cooked at once, each with the exact requisite heat—neither more nor less.

When the cooking is done, off goes the electric current, and expense ceases—no heat is wasted.

The cook can give undivided attention to the cooking—an electric range needs none.

THE POPE IS NOW OUT OF DANGER

Pains in the Patient's Knee Continue but Are Less Severe.

Rome, Aug. 12.—At noon to-day the general condition of Pope Pius was described by his physicians as "relatively satisfactory." The pontiff appeared somewhat stronger. His temperature remained slightly above normal, and the depression which has characterized his illness at times, had not been entirely overcome.

This afternoon the Pope, in a conversation more prolonged than has been usual during the last seven days, urged Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state, to go as he had planned to his villa at Montecarlo to-morrow. The cardinal had expected to be absent from Rome for the remainder of the summer, and His Holiness wished him to take a rest, saying that as for himself, he felt sure of recovering from his sickness.

The Pope did not get up this morning explaining that he felt better in his bed than in the chair, which he occupied at different times yesterday. The pains in the knee continued, but were less severe. The swelling, which diminished yesterday, has since remained stationary.

This afternoon the approach of a violent electrical storm caused the Pope to have a headache and a feeling of oppression. It is reported that Cardinal Rampolla, while at Einsiedeln, Switzerland, met a prominent Austrian who notified him that independent of the bulletin issued by Pope Pius forbidding Catholic powers to veto candidates for the papacy should a conclave be held, Austria would not oppose the election of Rampolla. Cardinal Rampolla was secretary of state for Pope Leo XIII., and was frequently mentioned as his successor in the pontifical. It was reported that his candidacy was vetoed by Austria. In the first year of his reign, Pope Pius X. pronounced a prohibition of every kind of intrusion of civil authority or influence in the election of a pope.

The Pope's eldest brother Angelo, who is living in northern Italy, to-day telegraphed that he was able to start for Rome but the Pope's sisters replied that the pontiff was wholly out of danger and that it might be unwise for Angelo to come to Rome, where the intense heat might endanger his health.

The Pope's sister Dora, who has been affected by the warm weather, was better to-day and the news afforded consolation to the pontiff who expressed the hope that he might see her soon.

When the matter came to a vote, the report of the city solicitor recommending the awarding of the contract to the Westholme Lumber Company was adopted.

Mr. Haggerty's suggestion did not exhaust the possibility of actions in connection with the sea wall. A communication was read from the shore protection company of London, England, to the effect that the reinforcement idea which had been adopted at the last minute was a patent of theirs, and that if the city decided to use it they might find themselves faced with an action for damages. The company complains that the use by the city of this idea amounts to an infringement of their patent rights, and while they wish to give the city every opportunity of modifying its plans, they assert that if the sea wall is built according to the specifications they will have good grounds on which to base a legal action. This latter matter was referred to the city solicitor for a report.

Among the Churches

THE OUTLOOK.

Downtown Churches.—At a ministerial meeting held some time ago, a very strong appeal was made to save the downtown section of the city from a dearth of churches. This was occasioned by rumor which had it that the First Presbyterian church intended moving, after the sale of their present church, to the more residential portions of the city; also that other prominent churches had similar intentions. In view of the new decided and advertised intention of the managers of the First Presbyterian church, we can sincerely hope the fears given expression to will be unfounded. That the Presbyterians do not propose moving more than one block either way—and a small block at that—is cause for deep satisfaction. Old landmarks should not be obliterated without the best of reasons, and established centres of public worship do not always gain by removal to places where financial aid is more easily obtained. Neither of these things can be urged against the First Presbyterian church, who we believe have acted upon the best judgment of their people and have the commendation of almost all church people for their choice of a site for a new church, which will be removed at least from the noise of much annoying street traffic, and which will give opportunity to provide more adequate and up-to-date arrangements for all branches of the church's work.

Mrs. Gibson's Work.—The Methodist church at Bella Coola and the Methodist public generally have suffered a severe loss in the removal by death of Mrs. J. H. Gibson, a veteran worker amongst the Indian people of British Columbia. Their present term is the second series of years they have spent at Bella Coola, but they are perhaps best known in Victoria, where they spent such a fruitful ministry among the natives. An account of the funeral services is given below.

Social Service.—Through a tentative body created by the last general convention, the Episcopal church will undertake to formulate a comprehensive programme for social service by official and volunteer workers. This church has just voted to co-operate with the Federal Council of Churches and also to work with the Christian Social Union and other agencies within and without the Episcopal church that are engaged in this work. The church will furthermore encourage volunteer workers in parishes, especially laymen, to undertake systematic effort, and it divides the lines of work thus: The city, to include police, health, charities and schools; charity, both public and private; labor organization, together with the relations of non-union labor; and civics, which includes politics to the extent of securing honest men for office, and the watching of elected men in office. The step is the initial one on the part of the Episcopal church to put social service, as it has already put Christian education, upon the same organized basis as its missionary work. The commission will open an office, employ a secretary and enter upon a budget of $10,000 a year.

Churches and Organized Labor.—Over 125,000 Protestant ministers are being requested by the social service commission of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ to preach on some phase of the labor question on Labor Sunday, September 3. Rev. Chas. S. Macfarland, secretary of the commission, has sent out a call to the secretaries of the Ministerial Associations in the cities, recommending that wherever possible a union service be held in one of the churches on Sunday night, to which organized labor and all other workingmen and women be invited; and that the various ministers preach sermons appropriate to the occasion in their own churches on the morning of September 3. At a recent convention of the American Federation of Labor, a resolution was unanimously adopted designating the "Sunday preceding the first Monday in September as Labor Sunday, and that the churches of America be requested to devote some part of this day to the discussion of some phase of the labor question."

The various central and local bodies were also requested, in this resolution, to co-operate in every legitimate way with the ministers who thus observe Labor Sunday, seeking, with them, to secure as large an audience of workingmen and others as possible. The social service commission has prepared a leaflet for Labor Sunday, and also an elaborate programme for the services.

ANGLICAN.

Christ Church.

Church's Responsibility.—Preaching on Sunday morning, Very Rev. Dean Doull told his hearers that the right that he should address them on the critical subject of the election of a bishop. He would be away for the next few weeks, and during that time his resignation would in all probability be handed in. It was right that he as their parish priest should lay before them what seemed to be their duty as members of the Church of Jesus Christ in the matter. The election of a bishop was always a matter of tremendous importance and one that was fraught with far reaching consequences. There were, moreover, special circumstances connected with the diocese of Columbia and the province at the present time which vastly increased the responsibility of the Church at this epoch of her history.

PRESBYTERIAN.

First Church.

New Church.—The negotiations which have been pending for the sale of the church are now ended and the congregation have $30,000 in hand as a result of the transaction. Out of this amount a new church site comprising three lots on the corner of Quadra and Piquard street, a position within one block of the old church, has been secured. Building will commence just as soon as plans are matured, but it is the decided purpose of those who have the matter in hand to make the new church among the top liners as far as beauty, equipment and appointments is concerned. The congregation is indeed to be congratulated upon the transaction.

Sunday Services.—The usual services will be held on Sunday next, when Dr. Campbell will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening.

St. Andrew's.

Service of Praise.—To-morrow evening a service of praise will be given for which the choir is preparing special music, consisting of solos, duets, quartettes, and choruses.

Knox Church.

Pastor Home.—The pastor, Rev. J. McCoy, has now completed the term of his vacation and having spent a very well earned and appreciated holiday will resume the services of his own pulpit forthwith.

CONGREGATIONAL.

First Church.

Y. P. S. S.—A very profitable evening was spent by the Young People's Society on Monday evening last at the Willows beach. Mountain Scenes in Bible Stories was the topic of study, which provoked much interest.

Sunday School.—Mr. J. E. Andrews, the superintendent of the school, who has been absent for two months touring the Old Land, is expected back in his place to-morrow. The officers and scholars are anticipating the pleasure of greeting their beloved superintendent.

Pastor's Return.—The pastor, Rev. H. A. Carson, who has been on a prolonged visit in the east, is expected home on Wednesday evening next.

METHODIST.

Metropolitan.

Quarterly Services.—Last Sabbath, what is known among Methodists as the "Quarterly Services," was recognized when unusually large congregations assembled, a splendid representation of the membership of the church partaking of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. A ceremony of much import to those participating in it, and one of deep satisfaction to the pastor and officials of the church, was performed, viz., the receiving into the fellowship of the church those who have during the quarter made a profession of faith in Jesus Christ, together with those who have come from other circuits to reside in this locality. Some 25 such candidates were so received, which fact offers evidence of the vitality of the church.

Sunday School.—The Sunday school officials are being greatly encouraged by the steady increase of new members, which is now a feature of this school.

Epworth League.—Mr. Otterwell, a member of the winning team in the recent debate on reciprocity, manifested his diversity of gifts by giving a very profitable and thought provoking paper along devotional lines at last Monday evening's meeting. The league is to be congratulated upon having such talent among its members.

Social.—Preparations are under way for an old fashioned social to be held on Monday evening next under the auspices. The aim of the social is to secure acquaintance with the large body of young people which is growing steadily in connection with the church services. A unique programme is being provided, and it is sincerely hoped that all the young people will avail themselves of the hospitality and entertainment afforded them.

Official Board.—On Wednesday evening last the regular monthly church business meeting was held, when, in addition to other business, very touching and complimentary remarks were made to the character and work of Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Brace, both of whom have been vigorous and valuable members of the church. Though Mr. Brace has had many problems to face in connection with his work as general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., and though almost every moment of his time has been absorbed by that institution, yet he has not forgotten his church relationship, and has always given of his best to the church in his choice. Much regret is felt at his approaching departure, but every confidence is expressed for his success in the foreign field. The board was unanimous in its decision to ask the general board of missions of the Methodist church to allow Mr. Brace to be the representative of the Metropolitan church in West China.

Financial District Meeting.—Rev. T. Hollins, as chairman of the Victoria district, announces that the district financial meeting will be held in the Victoria West Methodist church on Tuesday next at 8 o'clock in the morning. All members are asked to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Centennial.

Y. P. S. S. E. L.—The young people of the Epworth League were the guests last Monday evening of the Y. M. C. A. campers at the Gorge. The entertainment was strongly aquatic in its nature, but everybody had a good time.

Funeral Service.—On Wednesday afternoon the funeral services of Mrs. Gibson, wife of J. H. Gibson, Methodist missionary to the Indians at Bella Coola, was attended by a large company of mournful remembrances. Rev. A. Henderson, pastor of the church, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. J. A. Wood, who offered prayer, and by Rev. C. M. Tate, the veteran Indian missionary, who spoke very feelingly of the life and influence of Mrs. Gibson. He said that to Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas and to Mr. and Mrs. Gibson was due, under God, much of the credit of having made the Indians of Bella Coola the prosperous, God-fearing, law-abiding people they are to-day. Mrs. Gibson had performed a herculean task in establishing among these people women's societies, which had great influence towards enlightening and refining the homes of the Indian people. She had been a mother to them, training them in their homes for better citizenship. The Indians of Bella Coola as well as those of Victoria, of whom many were present to add their tears of regret and sorrow, had lost one whose life could never be recorded because it possessed a sweetness and charm beyond power of tongue or pen to describe. During her sickness Mrs. Gibson was a brave and patient sufferer, ever having words of cheer and comfort for those whose privilege it was to wait upon her. Many beautiful tributes to the fragrance of her life were paid by the sisters of the St. Joseph's hospital, while her medical attendant is reported to have said that he had lost much in not knowing her in the days of her health; for in days of sickness she had proved a great help to him towards the higher things of life. Mrs. Gibson was 32 years old and had spent 22 years in British Columbia. She leaves a sorrowing husband and large family, the eldest of whom, John Gibson, of Clayquilt, is a probationer for the ministry of the Methodist church in the British Columbia conference. During the funeral service Miss J. Beck rendered in a beautiful manner "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." The dead march from "Saul" was rendered by the organist as the body was taken from the church.

Adult Bible Class.—To-morrow the lesson study will be taken charge of by Rev. A. J. Brace, who will take of the opportunity of saying good-bye to the members of the class prior to leaving for China. The Y. M. C. A. camp have been invited to attend. Special music has been arranged and a delightful afternoon's programme is assured. A very cordial invitation is extended to all young men.

Victoria West.

Sacramental Service.—Last Sabbath in connection with the Sacramental Service a reception of new members was held when 18 new members were received into church fellowship, a very gratifying record. On Monday evening next special interest will be taken in the Epworth League meeting. The missionary department will have charge of the meeting and have arranged to have an address from Dr. Rainer of Victoria. Dr. Rainer spent some years on the West Coast of Vancouver Island as Medical Missionary under the Methodist church, hence his address from him on Missionary night is a very happy incidence and very appropriate.

Sunday's Sermons.—The pastor will preach to-morrow morning on "Sin Destroyed" and in the evening on "The Voyage of Life."

James Bay.

Sunday School.—The adjourned meeting of the Sunday School committee of management was held on Wednesday evening, when Mr. Patrick, who was a visitor to the World's Sunday School Convention at San Francisco, gave a synopsis of his impressions of the same as well as an interesting account of the chief features of the convention. The address was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Patrick's talk was followed by a splendid address on the needs, problems and their solutions of Moral Reform. The deliverance gained much commendation. A musical programme also was provided.

Sacrament.—At to-morrow morning's service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered.

W. M. S.—The Women of the W. M. S. invite all the ladies of the congregation to their business meeting to be held on Tuesday afternoon next at Beacon Hill park. The meeting will convene at 3 o'clock.

Strawberry Vale.

Official Board.—The quarterly official board meeting was held at the home of Mrs. McCullough Saanich road on Wednesday evening. The finances of the circuit were found to be in very satisfactory condition. The appropriation for salary will be $150 ahead of last year according to the new standard set by the general conference. But the church will not have need to ask for as large a grant as last year, because of the increased income and reduced expenditure. Rev. R. Wilkinson the pastor has addressed himself to the work in a splendid manner and has won the hearts of each of his congregations. Mr. Wilkinson's health, however, has not been at its best the past few weeks and the board voted him a rest so that he may entirely recuperate before again assuming his duties. Mr. Wilkinson expects to visit Mission City an old charge of his. Rev. Dr. Daley will supply the pulpits in his absence.

Equimult.

Stewards Meet.—A church Stewards meeting was held last Friday Evening when an enquiry into the financial state of the church gave much satisfaction. The church has a heavy burden of expense to carry—having no premises of their own, but the people are doing bravely. All the income will be absorbed by the local expenses. Hence it was recommended that the Y. M. C. A. be asked to request the missionary society to be responsible for the full salary of the pastor—$1,000.

Official Board.—The Q. O. B. which followed the Stewards meeting adopted all of their recommendations and appointed Mr. J. R. McKinnon to carry the same forward to the Financial Dist. meeting to be held on Tuesday next. On Thursday evening at a

BAPTIST.

Pastor's Vacation.—Pastor Warnicker is on vacation this month and has gone on a trip to the northern coast and Alaska. He is expected to take up his work again with the first Sunday in September.

Visiting Pastor.—Rev. D. G. McDonald very acceptably occupied the pulpit last Sunday morning and evening. He will again take the services to-morrow, preaching on the subject in the evening, "Why Will Ye Die."

Boating Party.

On last Wednesday evening a most enjoyable outing was spent by the Young People of First church. The party embarked at Point Ellice boat-house at 7.15 in four large row-boats and proceeded as far as Craigflower, returning about 11 p. m. after a delightful and successful evening.

Pulpit Supply.—Next Sunday, Aug. 20th, it is expected that the pulpit will be occupied by the Rev. Charles Davidson, who before entering the ministry was a resident of this city for some years. He is now engaged in work in the southern part of the United States and is visiting relatives and friends in this locality. The preacher for Sunday, the 27th inst., will be Rev. J. W. Litch, formerly of Vancouver, but now the evangelist of the Western Canada Baptist Union. Rev. Mr. Litch is no stranger to Victoria and many will look forward with pleasure to the opportunity of hearing him again.

Are Your Kidneys Working Properly?

It Will Pay You Well to Make Sure.

There's been a lot of "guessing" about rheumatism and rheumatic pains generally, but you can be dead sure that little pain across your back came from diseased kidney action.

The kidney's duty is to filter the blood—take out the impurities collected by the returning blood stream—do it just like absorbent cotton in a funnel filters the impurities from polluted water.

When the kidneys are not working you are bound for one of two courses—rheumatism and Bright's Disease or Rheumatism, Lumbago and Sciatica. The former course is usually fatal, and the latter always painful, but you need not have either, as they both can be easily prevented.

The very best prescription for all kidney troubles is Nyal's Stone Root Compound. It is no "patent" medicine, but a scientific prescription composed of Stone-root, Buchu, Juniper and other remedies of proved value. More than that, it has been proved by thousands who have had glad relief from its use.

There's nothing quite so miserable as the dragging results of sick kidneys. You are trifling with your own future when you neglect so simple a precaution, as a pleasant home treatment with Nyal's Stone Root Compound when results are so certain.

It soothes bladder irritation, gives you rest and comfort at night, and makes life once more enjoyable.

The kidneys, liver and bladder are all dependent upon one another, and Nyal's Stone Root Compound is particularly designed to help them all.

Sold and analyzed by Dr. E. Campbell, John Cochrane, Dean & Hiscocks, F. W. Fawcett, Messrs. Hall & Co., W. Jackson & Co., F. J. Williams, Victoria.

Taddy, aged four, often called on his nearest neighbor, Mrs. Brown, who petted him a good deal and usually gave him a couple of nice cookies, and if he happened to forget to pass them out, his sometimes reminded her of it.

His father learned of this, and chided him for being so greedy, and told him he must not do so any more. A day or two later Taddy came home with cookie crumbs in evidence.

"Have you been heaving cookies from Mrs. Brown again?" asked his father rather sternly.

"No," said Taddy. "I don't beg her for any. I just said this house smells as if it was full of cookies, but what's that to me?"—Harper's.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

In a little comic opera, which I saw the other night, was a very amusing scene in which half a dozen chorus girls and the leading man suddenly break loose, return to their childhood and indulge in an unconscious game of "Follow the Leader."

Among the chorus girls was a little girl in a bright green dress at whom everyone seemed to be looking with especial interest.

No, she wasn't the prettiest. There were two others quite as pretty and one stately blonde, who went through the gyrations in a very bored way, was distinctly beautiful.

The reason everyone watched the little girl in the bright green dress was simply because she seemed to be enjoying herself so thoroughly. Whether the leader's "stunt" was to hop over a chair or slide down the bannisters or jump out of the window she did it with an appearance of zest and enthusiasm and a rollicking all-over-ness that was simply captivating. Before the end of the act she actually received an especial round of applause. And all this without saying a word or doing anything different from the others.

There is seldom a girl, pretty or homely, who doesn't value to the extreme the power of beauty in winning popularity. Most of them decidedly overrate it.

But how few girls realize the value of vivacity as an attraction!

"Why don't I like her better?" a young man said the other day, when I wondered that he wasn't more enthusiastic over a very pretty girl whom he had just met, "why, because she's so dead and alive all the time. I don't care if she is pretty. I'd rather have a plainer girl with more go to her."

Look about you at the popular girls and see if the majority of them aren't girls with go, girls with zest and enthusiasm.

Laugh and the world laughs with you and, what is more, loves you for giving it the opportunity.

Enjoyment and enthusiasm are contagious and it is inevitable that we should like to be with those who expose us to the delightful contagion.

Some people are born with a gift for enthusiasm and hearty enjoyment. I think the little girl in the bright green dress must have been one of these. Such have the finest vivacity because it is wholly natural. But enthusiasm can be cultivated.

If certain extent, may be cultivated. If you aren't lucky enough to possess them naturally, my heartfelt advice is to do what you can to acquire them.

And, like any good habit acquired for its effect on others, I have no doubt that in the end this one will have a desirable effect on your own character.

The vivacity which at first is an effort of the mind will finally become a habit of the heart and you will be doubly repaid—not only will other people like you better but you will probably like yourself better.

STRIPED AND PLAIN SILK.

Plain and striped taffeta are effectively combined in a gown built on lines suggested above. The model employs the fashionable little balero uniquely put together with both materials. The arrangement of stripes in panels is especially pretty. Front and jacket are especially plain silk are used on skirt, the latter reaching only to knee depth and finished with silk fringe.

The jaunty little black straw turban is trimmed with pointed loops of striped ribbon.

John Chapman Davie, M.D.

BY EDGAR FAWCETT

Sincere will be the regret at the announcement of the death of the subject of this sketch. As I have known him since he arrived in the colony with his father (who was also John Chapman Davie), and his three brothers, William, Horace and Alexander, in 1862, it may not be inappropriate that I, one of his oldest friends, should tell what I know of him. Dr. Davie was born in Wells, Somersetshire, on the 22nd March, 1845, and was therefore 66 years of age. He, with his brother Horace (residing in Sonoma), were educated at Silcoats College, England, and studied for the profession which afterwards made him known from north to south of the Pacific coast, at the University of San Francisco. He also studied under a clever English physician, Dr. Lane, and under Dr. Toland, both eminent men who founded colleges in California.

After Dr. Davie had finished his medical course in California he came to Victoria and entered into practice with his father. When I was about 15 years old I was troubled a deal with my throat and was under his father's treatment. I was obliged to give up singing in consequence, being a choir boy in Christ church. In my frequent visits to the doctor's surgery I became acquainted with Dr. Davie, who undertook the treatment of my throat, until I was able to resume my choir duties. Both Dr. Davie and his brother Alexander were members of the choir at this time and regular in attendance at service and choir practice. I can see with my mind's eye at a choir practice both brothers. Mr. Cridge, the rector, always conducted these practices, and he asked each brother in turn to sing his individual part over in the anthem, as they were to take solos he (Mr. Cridge) beating time as they sang. I might say that we had some fine singers in the choir in those days, and more an theme were sung than even now. His brother Horace and I were schoolfellows at the Church Collegiate school, which was situated on Church Hill, just about where Mr. Keith Wilson's residence now stands. It was built as a Congregational church, and was destroyed by fire about 1879.

At the time I first became acquainted with Dr. Davie his father's office was situated where Chaloner & Mitchell's store now stands and was a very unpretentious affair—as most business places were in Victoria at that time—a wooden one-storey frame cottage of three rooms. The doctor's first office was on the corner of Government and Bastion, where Richardson's cigar store stands. At the former office my friend studied and worked with his father until the latter's death, when the son continued the practice in his own behalf.

From Mr. Alexander Wilson, who was a director of the Royal Jubilee hospital at this time, I am told a deal about Dr. Davie's early medical career. He says the young doctor was ambitious to become medical officer to the Royal hospital, then situated on the rock at the top of Pandora street, and asked Mr. Wilson to try and get the position for him even without salary, and Mr. Wilson, having great faith in the young man, promised to do his best, and at a meeting of the board, consisting of Alexander McLean, J. D. Robinson, Henry Short and Alexander Wilson, Dr. Davie was duly elected, and at a salary of $100 per annum, and held the position for over twenty years. He entered on his duties with great zeal, his first surgical case being that of an Indian girl who was accidentally shot on Salt Spring Island. The poor girl's arm was badly shattered, and she was brought down from the island in a canoe. It was a bad case, but the doctor pulled her through and, saving her arm, sent her home again as good as over.

Dr. Davie was fond of music and in early days was a proficient on the flute, contributing to the programme of many a concert for charity in those days when amateurs did so much to entertain the public.

That the subject of this sketch was a clever man goes without saying. Many there are, who have been snatched from grim death by this skillful surgeon. By some he was thought to be bearish and unsympathetic, but they who thought so did not know him as I did, or they would not have thought so. Where there was real suffering and danger there could not have been a more gentle, kinder, heartier or careful man. Because he did not always respond to a friend's salutation in passing it was taken as bearishness or indifference. It was really pre-occupation. He was thinking out a difficult case for the next morning at the hospital. As he once said to a lady friend, "They little know the hours I pass walking up and down at night thinking out case I have to operate on; how I shall do it to make it a success." I went into his office one day and found him with a surgical instrument on his knee which he seemed very intent on, and I asked him what it was for. He hesitated for a moment, then said, "You would not understand." But still he explained it all to me. It was for an operation in the morning on the stomach of a patient at one of the hospitals, and I have no doubt it was successful. About seven years ago he attended me for typhoid fever, and even then he had his hand speckled with sickness, but still he came regularly, and on reaching the top of the stairs to my room he would hold on till his coughing fit was over. "Well, old man, how are you to-day?" After I had taken a turn for the better and was very susceptible to the smell of good things cooking downstairs, I asked him when I should be allowed to have something to eat, and added, "Oh, I am so tired of milk and eggs; when may I have a bit of chicken or mutton?"

"Well, how many days is it since your temperature was normal? Well, in so many days you may have jelly and junket."

"Is that all?" I replied, disappointed. "Look here, old man, I want to get you well and you must be patient." "That reminds me of a little story," said the doctor. "Some years ago two men were digging a deep ditch on Johnson street to repair a sewer. Some time after both the men were taken sick, which turned out to be typhoid fever, and, being single men, they were taken to the hospital. I saw them every day in my regular round of visits, and they progressed towards recovery until they got to the stage that you have, and complained of my bill of fare. They asked for 'something solid,' and I put them off with the same answer you got. A day or two after in making my regular rounds I noticed that one of my patients was not in evidence and I asked his friend where he was. Then the story was told me of his friend having had some visitors, one of whom brought a cooked chicken, part of which was eaten on the sly and the balance hidden under the mattress. The result was that he was then out in the morgue, having died that day, and in due time, to conclude my little story, his friend, who had no chicken, left the hospital cured."

"Now," said Dr. D., "I'll go; you are in good hands (my wife); the patient will ponder on my little story."

It is pretty well known that Dr. Davie had had only one lung for years past, but that did not prevent him attending to his numerous patients. The many who to-day are indebted to his skill and kindness of heart will feel a great sorrow at his passing. Many of his former patients have told me of his refusal of pay for valuable services rendered them. At the conclusion of a sickness a patient would likely say: "Well, doctor, I am grateful for your pulling me through. I shall have to pay you by installments. Here is something on account."

If the doctor did not know his circumstances he would say: "How much is your salary?" On his replying he (the doctor) would say: "If that is all you get you cannot afford to pay anything," and that was the last the patient would hear of it.

On one occasion I heard the experience of three in a small party who had this or something to this effect to relate. "With his extensive practice he ought to have been a very wealthy man, but not with such patients as these, of course, but if all the patients he has had in years past had been charged, saying, 'Fawcett, old man, don't I wish I could go back to the days when we were young and took those trips to Cowichan. It is pretty hard to go!' I fully agreed with him then, but when later he got so bad and suffered so much, he prayed to go, and I again agreed with him, poor fellow. This latter time was when he spoke made him cough and suffocate. 'Old man, I cannot talk to you,' and he would lie back in an exhausted state, and I would go, sorry that I was unable to do anything to relieve him, to slightly repay all his kindness to me in the past."

Tuesday last I with my wife paid my last call on him, he having expressed a desire to see me. I little thought it was the last time I should see the doctor alive, for he said he would not so till October, he thought, and I believed him.

Well, maybe I have said enough, but I could not say a deal more if necessary. What I have said will be echoed by many, I'm sure.

So, in the words of Montgomery the poet:

"Friend after friend departs, who has not lost a friend?"

There is no union here of hearts, that finds not here an end.

Were this frail world our only rest, living or dying none were blest."

GUARD LASHED TO TREE
 Shot by Man Who Assisted Prisoner to Escape.

Anamosa, Ia., Aug. 12.—William Hamaker, a guard at the Iowa penitentiary, was shot and probably fatally wounded and then lashed to a tree today when Charles Smith, a convict, made his escape. The latter and two other men who aided him in breaking away are being pursued by a posse. Yesterday some one called up the prison office over the telephone and asked to see Smith. The permit was granted and the guards at the quarry were instructed to send him in. Hamaker was detailed to guard him. The two men started on foot and when about half a mile away were confronted by two men in a buggy. One of the men shot the guard in the stomach and tied him to a tree. Taking Smith into the buggy they drove off. Hamaker's cries were heard after nearly an hour and he was rescued and sent to the prison hospital, where it was said he would die.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

WAS GENIUS OF FRENZIED FINANCE

Edward G. Lewis Now on Trial
Made Millions by Brilliant Schemes

One of the most remarkable promoters of the generation is Edward G. Lewis, who is now under indictment for fraud in St. Louis, and whose trial has been set for October 23. It is alleged that Lewis in the past two years has induced the women of the United States to part with something like $10,000,000 of their savings, by using false representations, and by downright swindling methods, says the Toronto Mail and Empire. Lewis himself declares that he is the victim of the interests, and that he has to-day assets of $300,000,000, with liabilities of less than $300,000,000. He also declares that if the subscribers to his various founded enterprises will only put up another $2,000,000, he will yet defeat his enemies, and make a fortune for all his friends and supporters. The post office authorities, on the other hand, say that Lewis is insolvent, and that he is a faker and swindler of the most dangerous kind; also that they hope to land him in a federal prison for a good long stretch.

Lewis is a university man, the son of a New England clergyman, and his financial genius manifested itself while he was at college. He prepared a deception that he said would cure the tobacco habit, and induced several hundred women to put it in the tea and coffee of their smoking sons and husbands. He realized quite a sum from this dope, but lost it all in an attempt to popularize a preparation of sarsaparilla. It was necessary for Lewis to hustle for a living, and in the course of the next few years he tried his hand at many occupations, but without success, and one morning in Nashville, Tenn., he found himself with just $1.19 in the world. It was at this solemn moment that he hit on one of his good ideas. He bought a gross of ordinary crayons for 25 cents, and a bottle of oil of wintergreen for 25c. Then he captured a live roach, presented himself announcing that he was about to give a demonstration of his wonderful preparation "Bug Chalk." He drew a line on the counter with his doctored chalk, and set the roach at liberty. Every time it approached the line, it drew back, disgorging a small smell of wintergreen. Then and there Lewis disposed of his stock for $7.50, laid in a new supply and started on a house to house canvass.

He soon had a small bank roll, which was swelled by other similar inventions, namely "Anti-Sneez" and "Anti-Fly." Then followed "Dr. Hot's Cough-Checker," warranted to "crack a cold in half an hour"; "Walk Easy Foot Powder," which made money for Lewis the first summer, but went out of business in the winter; "Anti-Cavity," a toothache dope, and the "Pro-Active Watch-Co." By this time he had established himself in St. Louis, and was making money fast. There seemed no limit to the number of schemes he could invent, and they ranged all the way from mechanical devices to collection agencies and guessing contests. In 1901, he entered the publishing field, purchasing the Woman's Farm Journal and the Woman's National Weekly, which he used for the purpose of obtaining subscriptions to his various stock-selling schemes. His first big enterprise was the People's United States Bank, which was to transact all its business by mail. He actually got 60,000 people to subscribe $2,000,000 capital to this bank.

His operations were stopped after the first year by the issuance of a fraud order by the postal department. The bank went into a receiver's hands, but Lewis appealed to his clients, and induced them to trade their stock for trusted notes, which were secured by a trust deed on his income above his living expenses. He then increased the stock of his bank, and traded it for bank stock, with the $500,000 cash and had $900,000 of bank stock. When the receiver finally paid 55 per cent on the bank stock Lewis presented what he had and got $500,000 cash and had $900,000 of his notes paid. His next venture was the Woman's National Daily newspaper, which he used to organize various stock schemes, the most important being a tremendous pool, which was to purchase all Lewis' holdings in his various companies, and run them on a co-operative basis. Lewis promised that all who invested would make a fortune.

Several millions were thus obtained, but Lewis had promised more than he could perform, and was obliged to default on the notes of all his enterprises. It now appears that all the assets of the league have vanished, and that if possible, liabilities estimated at $2,000,000. The man seems to have some phenomenal influence over women, for after all his schemes had failed he induced his readers to put up another million and a half for debentures against the $900,000,000 of assets he persisted in claiming. All told he has got $10,000,000 from the trusting women of the United States. What has become of it will probably be made clear at his trial.

ORDER OF LIONS WILL INSTITUTE A LODGE

New Fraternal Body Rapidly Recruiting Its Membership
in Victoria

On Friday evening next, in the Eagle's hall, 1319 Government street, the first lodge of the Order of Lions to be established in Victoria will be instituted and officers appointed.

In the few days that Organizer Harry Daughtry has been here, at the King Edward hotel, he has secured over two hundred applications for membership, some of the most prominent and influential citizens having expressed their intention of affiliating themselves with this excellent young social and fraternal organization. It is the aim of the order to keep its membership of a high standard, and the organizer has kept this in mind, naturally, in enrolling applicants here. In Vancouver, which is the headquarters of the order for Canada, there are already over 1,000 members. A feature of the order is that the per capita tax is kept in Canada, under the control of the Grand Lodge of Canada, and is not sent out to any supreme body in another country.

The membership is growing throughout the British empire, large additions being reported from South Africa and Australia.

Mr. Daughtry expects to be sent to the Old Country to carry on organization work in the course of the next year. His immediate ambition is to see 1,000 Lions in Victoria, and British Lions at that, he says.

MONOPLANE CAPSIZES.

Falls to Ground But Pilot and Passenger Escape Uninjured.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—The first accident in the aviation race, as it is called, occurred when Arthur Stone, in a Bleriot monoplane, while attempting to rise from the ground with a passenger, overturned and fell to the ground from a height of fifty feet, without injury to anyone.

James V. Martin, in a Graham-White machine, ran into a tree in the southeast corner of the aviation field. Something went wrong with his engine, but he seemed to be able to control it before any disastrous results occurred. The international aviation meet opened here to-day, and 35 aviators, the best known in this country and Europe, will compete for the $50,000 prize to be given.

The meet, the first big demonstration in the middle west, is to be a genuine competition, not a mere exhibition of flying. It will embrace races and contests every day.

COLD PLUNGE PROVES FATAL.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 12.—A cold bath caused the death yesterday of James Fennell, former superintendent of Armour & Company, in this city. Earlier in the day Mr. Fennell was down town and became over heated. Returning home he took a cold plunge and the shock killed him.

—How can I get there? Consult Solly the passenger man, 1210 Douglas Street, Victoria, phone 241, and all trouble and difficulties will vanish.

WOULD RECONSIDER THE SEWER CONTRACT

Attempt Made to Have Work Done by Outside Contractor
—Matter Delayed

An attempt was made last night at the city council meeting to take the sewers contract from the city engineer, to whom it was awarded at the last meeting of the council in open competition, but the move did not prove effective. A motion for reconsideration being held over for a week. Ald. Ross was instrumental in bringing the matter before the notice of the council. He was not satisfied that the best had been done by the city in awarding the contract to the city engineer and he was desirous of having the council reconsider the subject before allowing the council to commit itself to such an extensive piece of work on the day labor system.

Ald. Ross found a second in the person of Ald. H. M. Fullerton, who had been one of those to originally oppose the award going to the city engineer. He thought the work should be done by contract labor, and further more he did not think that the city engineer was in a position to do the work in question so quickly as a private contractor. He claimed that the installation of the laterals in the paved streets, together with the many other tasks at present occupying the attention of the engineering department, would militate against the city engineer being able to give this very important sewer work his best attention.

Another aspect of the case was submitted by Ald. Morey, who contended that it would be impossible for the city to start the work until a conference had been held with the Oak Bay municipal authorities, who were a party of the scheme. He urged that such a conference be immediately called as it was necessary that the work of construction should be commenced without delay.

The city solicitor then entered the field of debate with the explanation that it would not be possible for the city to start upon the work at all until the subject of the sanction of the provincial health authorities was obtained.

With all these side issues to the question it was agreed to leave the matter alone for a week at least.

It was reported to the council that on the first of next month the two new fire halls recently ordered to be built on Fernwood road and Fairfield road will be ready for occupancy.

A report on the proceedings of the municipal conference, submitted by the city solicitor, in terms of the report appearing in the Times of yesterday, and was endorsed by the council.

The city solicitor was deputed to attend the session of the board of railway commissioners, which is scheduled to take place in Vancouver next month, the object of his presence being to watch features concerning Victoria's trade and to use his discretion in speaking of them.

The sum of $100 was donated to the St. John's Ambulance class, which is at present doing good educational work in the city, especially among the police staff.

SENATORS SEEK TO AMEND TREATIES

Opposition to Peace Agreements Develops in United States Senate

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—The arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France were considered by the senate in executive session to-day. The discussion lasted only two hours, and was without result. Much opposition developed, leading some of the friends of the agreements to doubt whether they could be ratified at this time in amended form.

The senate committee on foreign relations to-day agree to recommend the ratification of the arbitration treaties so amended as to eliminate the paragraph conferring on the joint high commission of inquiry the right to determine what international questions come under the term of the treaties.

The president has informed members of the committee that he will exert himself to the utmost to insure ratification of this paragraph in the ultimate action of the senate.

It is possible that in view of the approaching B. C. athletic championship meet, which is to be held here on Labor Day, which is Director H. G. Deale, of the Y. M. C. A., may get teams started to train next Monday night. This matter has not been definitely fixed as yet, but an endeavor will be made to get something done towards taking part in the sports and as the time is not very long a start must be made in the near future.

—The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company has placed with the Victoria Lumber Manufacturing Company, Chemsunus, an order for 10,000,000 feet of lumber for construction work on the prairies. This is one of the largest orders that has ever been placed on the Pacific coast. Fifty cars will be used to transport the heavy timbers to their destination. The first shipment will leave Chemsunus next week by the Great Northern car ferry, "Sydney," and will be taken to the Great Northern depot in Vancouver. Part of the order will go to Transcona, part to Reddit, and part to Graham, stations on the Grand Trunk line.
